ENGLAND DECLARES WAR ON GERMANY

German Forces Are Shelling the Towns of Neutral Belgium

GERMAN WARSHIPS SUNK AND CAPTURED

Great Britain Forced Into the War When Germany Deliberately Persisted in Violating the Neutrality of Belgium — Parliament Votes $525,000,000 for the War — Reported That French Warships Have Sunk One German Cruiser and Captured Two Others — German Forces Have Entered France at Three Points, but No General Engagement Has Occurred — Austria Drops Servia to Guard Against Russia, and Servia Prepares to Invade Austrian Provinces.

All Europe is in arms.

On the one hand Austria-Hungary and Germany are opposed by Russia, France and Great Britain, Servia and Montenegro.

Italy has declared her neutrality, but is mobilizing. Belgium, Holland and Switzerland have mobilized.

The German demand that the Belgian government should permit the free passage of German troops through Belgium was answered by hasty preparations to resist such an advance across Belgian territory.

Sweden has made no answer to inquiries from Russia and Germany regarding her attitude, but is preparing to defend her neutrality.

Japan is making ready to live up to her alliance with Great Britain in case of certain eventualities.

Spain is reported to be preparing a proclamation of neutrality.

Austria-Hungary for the moment has retired from her campaign against Servia for the purpose of holding back Russia, and Servia has mobilized with the reported intention of invading Bosnia.

COUNCIL OF WAR DECIDING FATE OF MEXICO CITY

Carranza Has Rejected Proposals of Carbajal and the Federal Army Officers Are Considering Surrender of City.

REPORTED THAT VILLA WILL FIGHT CARRANZA

Villa Expected to Make an Early Declaration of War. Officials Begin to Flee From Mexico City.

Mexico City, August 4.—Provisional President Carbajal, members of congress and representatives of the federal army are in session at the national palace discussing the turning over of the government to the constitutionalists unconditionally. The plan is to have Generals Obregon and Gonzales, of the constitutional army, form a temporary military government.

The exodus of the old regime toward Vera Cruz has commenced.

At 7:30 o'clock tonight the fate of Mexico City was still in the hands of a council of war, which had been in session several hours. One hundred and twelve federal generals were discussing the advisability of evacuating the capital and permitting the unhindered entry of the constitutionalists. The session promised to last late into the night.

Hundreds of army officers for hours have crowded the court yards of the national palace and the department of war awaiting the decision which may seal their fate.

CARRANZA REJECTS CARBAJAL'S PROPOSALS

Saltillo, Mexico, August 3.—(Via Laredo, Texas, August 4.)—Negotiations for the peaceful transfer of Mexico City to the constitutionalists failed tonight. The constitutionalists refused to entertain conditions imposed by the Carbajal commissioners. These commissioners did not even see Carranza.

The Carbajal commission, consisting of M. Lauro Villar and David Gutierrez Allende, was not delegated with the power to accede to the unconditional surrender, not only of the capital and executive authority, but of the federal army. These were the only terms upon which General Carranza had agreed to receive them. On the contrary, the commission carried with them six conditions drawn by Carbajal, which they were requested to insist upon. The constitutionalists declined to accede to one of these conditions, declaring they were contrary to the plan of Guadalupe.

Carbajal Conditions.

The conditions asked by Carbajal were:

First: The arrangement of an armistice and issue of instructions for immediate ceasing of hostilities, instructions to be delivered as soon as possible to all chiefs of the contending parties.

Second: Transmission of executive power by means of dissolution of the present congress and the restoration of the congress dissolved by Huerta.

Third: The reinstated congress would immediately publish a general armistice granting immunity for all political offenses or connection with the army so that nobody would be molested for their political opinions or for military operations.

Fourth: Recognition of the various military grades obtained by officers of the federal army.

Fifth: The reinstated congress being in session, Carbajal would resign as president, either presenting his renunciation to that body or through manifesto to the people, congress designating the person who should receive the executive power according to the system in vogue prior to the year 1898.

Sixth: Arrangements relative to financial questions, especially affecting the interests of foreigners.

Carbajal Propositions Rejected.

Carranza delegated General Antonio Villareal and General Luis Caballero to interview the Carbajal delegates to discover their powers and demands. The Carranza commissioners rejected the Carbajal propositions and left here for Monterey.

The Carbajal commissioners were still here tonight. They said they had no statement to make and did not know whether they would return to Mexico City.

General Jesus Carranza reported to the first chief that his forces had engaged the commands of General Paschal Orozco, General Perez Castro, and General Cardenas at Leon and had put them to flight after a fight lasting six hours. Orozco, General Carranza said, was in retreat towards Jalisco. General Castro, second in command, was captured and executed.

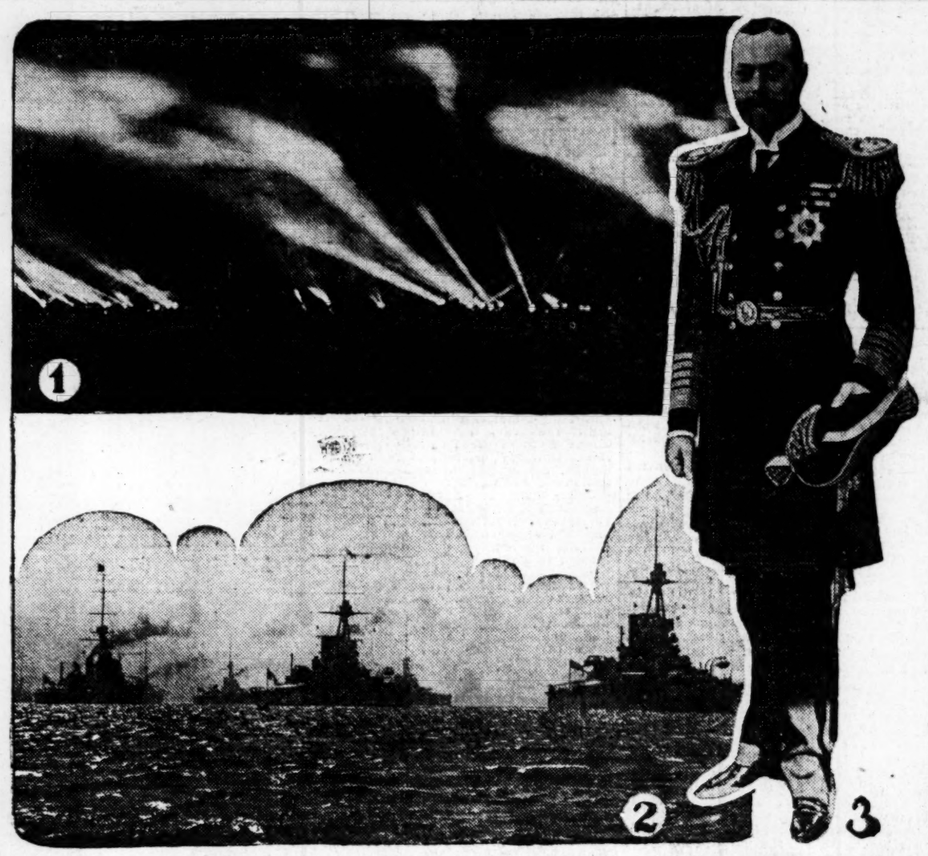

VILLA HAS TURNED AGAINST CARRANZA.

El Paso, August 4.—General Francisco Villa virtually has proclaimed his independence from the Carranza government, according to reports brought here today by arrivals from northern Mexico. Villa has begun reorganizing his army. General Felipe Angeles, Carranza's deposed secretary of war, is in charge of the reorganization. A movement is on foot for the immediate distribution of lands. Carranza has not been informed, so far as is known.

A mobilization at Torreon of all troops in General Villa's division was

King George of England and Pride of His Navy

1. SEARCHLIGHT DISPLAY FROM BRITISH BATTLESHIPS. 2. ENGLISH WARSHIPS IN LINE. 3. KING GEORGE OF ENGLAND.

King George of Great Britain possesses the greatest navy in the world. His first step toward protecting England from possible invasion from Germany was to send his first fleet, comprising twenty-nine battleships, four battle cruisers and thirteen armored cruisers, to the North sea. This action followed the general mobilization of the home fleet, during which about 425 warships of all kinds were reviewed at Portland, England. It was on this occasion that these pictures were taken. One shows the searchlights of a score of the warships being displayed at night. The other shows a general view of several of the big battleships. King George was ready to send the second fleet, including fifteen battleships and eight cruisers, to the North sea.

BELGIANS CALLED TO FIGHT GERMANS

King Albert Says Every Belgian Must Die if Necessary to Protect Violation of Belgian Soil.

Brussels, August 4.—King Albert of the Belgians presided today over a joint session of the Belgian senate and chamber of deputies. In the course of an address His Majesty declared that never since 1830 had a graver situation confronted a neutral nation. He said it was imperative that every Belgian should do his duty and resign himself to every sacrifice that might be necessary in order to prevent the violation of Belgian soil.

The king proceeded:

"Our fatherland is in danger. Let me make an appeal to you, my brothers. At this supreme hour the entire nation must be of one mind. I have called together the houses of parliament so that they may support the government in declaring that we will maintain untarnished the sacred patriotism of our fathers. Long live independent Belgium!"

A scene of stirring enthusiasm followed. Deputies and senators stood

LONDON FEELING PINCH OF HIGHER FOOD PRICES

Many People Are Refusing to Pay the Advances Asked.

London, August 4.—London already is feeling the pinch of higher food prices. While the big concerns are selling wholesale to those persons with currency or credit, the smaller shops are almost deserted, the people either not having any money or refusing to pay increased price.

The recall of the trawlers from the North sea greatly curtailed the fish supply at Billingsgate today. The Smithfield meat market was less affected than the Billingsgate market today, a good supply of fish having arrived and still other cargoes being due. Nevertheless, prices rose there 20 per cent.

David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, announced in the house of commons today that the government already had opened an office for the reinsurance of ships' cargoes with the hope of preserving supplies of food and raw material. Other steps would be taken to insure the food supply if war broke out, the chancellor added.

Abnormal Demand for Food.

New Castle, England, August 4.—Some co-operative stores here have closed owing to the abnormal demand for food. More orders for provisions were received than could be filled. In the poorer districts people already are suffering.

Food Prices Advance.

Liverpool, August 4.—Retail prices of provisions advanced 50 per cent today. Stores in some cases had to close, as their stocks were running low. Sugar refineries have closed and grocers are unable to obtain further supplies.

Food Famine Threatened.

Glasgow, August 4.—A food famine threatens in Glasgow and some stores closed today, so pressing were the buyers. Sugar prices jumped from 5 cents to 12 cents a pound, and many shops sold out.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR MAIL TO EUROPE

Washington, August 4.—Temporary arrangements were made today for handling mail for Europe under conditions imposed by the withdrawal of liners as a result of the war. Should all the big British, German and French ships be tied up at least one trans-Atlantic mail a week would be assured by American steamers. Ships flying the Italian, Dutch, Norwegian or Swedish flags also would be available. The international money order service between the United States and Belgium today was suspended at Belgium's request.

GERMAN CRUISER FIRES ON A FRENCH TOWN

Paris, August 4.—The governor of Algeria, in an official telegram, says the German cruiser Breslau early today fired eight broadsides—sixty shells—into the French fortified town of Bona. One man was killed and some buildings were damaged.

WAR OF JEALOUSY, DECLARES KAISER

German Ruler Says Conflict Is Result of Ill Will Because of Prosperity and Strength of His Empire.

Berlin, August 4.—Emperor William opened the imperial parliament today with a speech from the throne. He said in part:

"The world has been a witness of the indefatigable manner in which we stood in the front rank in the endeavor to save Europe from a war between the great powers. The greatest perils due to events in the Balkans appeared to have been overcome, but then the assassination of my friend, the archduke, Francis Ferdinand, opened up a great abyss.

"My ally, Emperor Francis Joseph, was compelled to take up arms to protect his empire against the dangerous agitation in a neighboring state.

"In pursuing its interests the Russian

HEART OF ENGLAND NOT AT ALL LIGHT AS SHE GOES TO WAR

Many Outbreaks of Enthusiasm, But the Great Mass of the People Are Showing Serious Faces.

OPPOSITION TO THE WAR PRACTICALLY DISSIPATED

Complete Preparation for War Came as a Surprise. The German Ambassador Hooted by Mob.

London, August 4.—Excited and clamorous youths marching through that area of London which corresponds to the Broadway district of New York may cause American visitors to carry home reports that England is embarking on war with a light heart, but those who know this country realize the opposite is the truth.

Young men have been parading through the streets, carrying the Union Jack and tri-color, with vociferous cheering, but the busiest section of the metropolis has not been as crowded or as noisy as on minor occasions of popular excitement.

Crowds gathered about the government offices today and cheered the ministers whenever they appeared; the railway stations were filled with army reserves and territorials in khaki, but the great mass of the people went about their ordinary occupations with serious faces.

Opposition to the war has been almost dissipated by the events of the past twenty-four hours, except from a section of organized labor.

Two Liberal papers, the Chronicle and the Daily News, have come into line and are supporting the government.

To Insure Against War Risk.

David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, announced in the house of commons his scheme for insuring shipping against war risks.

"Because this scheme is promulgated in the midst of an emergency," said the chancellor, "it is not in any sense a panic scheme prepared in an emergency."

The committee of imperial defense has labored on the plan for more than a year, he said. Its aim was that in case of war British commerce should not be interrupted by inability to secure war risks and to insure that insurance rates should not go so high as to cause any considerable rise in prices.

"We are perfectly convinced," he continued, "that with the protection of

Germany's Defiance Answered By British War Declaration

London, August 4.—Great Britain declared war on Germany tonight.

The momentous decision of the British government, for which the whole world had been waiting, came before the expiration of the time-limit set by Great Britain in her ultimatum to Germany demanding a satisfactory reply on the subject of Belgian neutrality.

Germany's reply was the summary rejection of the request that Belgian neutrality should be respected.

The British ambassador at Berlin thereupon received his passports and the British government notified Germany that a state of war existed between the two countries.

The British foreign office has issued the following statement:

"Owing to the summary rejection by the German government of the request made by His Britannic Majesty's government that the neutrality of Belgium should be respected, his majesty's ambassador at Berlin has received his passports, and his majesty's government has declared to the German government that a state of war exists between Great Britain and Germany from 11 o'clock p. m., August 4."

Land and Sea Fights Reported

London, August 4.—A dispatch to The Central News from Amsterdam says the Germans have captured Vise, Belgium, a town with a population of 3,000, situated on the River Meuse, eight miles northeast of Liege.

Brussels, August 4.—It is reported here that following a demand by the Germans for the surrender of the city of Liege an engagement ensued in which the Germans were repulsed. All Germans have been expelled from Liege and Namur.

Algiers, August 4.—According to an unoffocial report a French fleet has captured two German cruisers, the Goeben and Breslau.

Paris, August 4.—A Havas dispatch from Algiers says it is reported that French warships have sunk the German cruiser Panther.

London, August 4.—The house of commons today voted $525,000,000 for emergency purposes and passed several bills in five minutes without a dissentient voice.

Berlin, August 4.—A bill was introduced in the German imperial parliament today providing for the appropriation of $1,250,000,000 to meet the expenses of the war.

FRANCE FORCED TO TAKE UP ARMS

President Poincare and Premier Viviani Say That Germany Had Planned a Treacherous Surprise.

Paris, August 4.—President Poincare in a message to the senate and chamber today declared that Germany "had tried treacherously to surprise France," and added: "France was ready and our covering troops will allow mobilization to be methodically carried out."

Premier Viviani made the French government's statement on the war in the chamber of deputies today. His remarks created the deepest enthusiasm. He detailed events of the past fortnight, declaring Germany "irrefutably and logically justified the acts of the Fernch government."

During his remarks the premier said:

"France has been unjustly provoked; she did not seek the war; she has done all in her power to avoid it. Since war was forced upon her, she will defend herself against Germany and any other power who takes part by the side of Germany in the conflict.

"Against an attack which violates all the laws of equity and all the rights of nations, we have taken all necessary dispositions."

The house turned toward the Russian minister, M. Iswolsky, woh sat in the diplomatic gallery, and cheered Russia.

"Belgium has 650,000 men in arms prepared to defend the neutrality and independence of their native land. The English fleet is mobilized to the smallest vessel and the English army is mobilizing."

The deputies arose again, turned toward where the British ambassador, Sir Francis Bertie, was sitting in the gallery and cheered wildly.

BELGIUM INVADED BY GERMAN FORCES AS WELL AS FRANCE

Brussels, Belgium, August 4.—Rumors were in circulation today that Germany had actually declared war on Belgium. German troops crossed the frontier at Gemmenieh, near the junction of the Dutch, Belgian and German frontiers. German troops today also made a further invasion of Belgian territory near Verviers to the east of Liege.

Paris, August 4.—The Germans have penetrated French territory at three points. They first entered Longlaville, in the department of Meurthe-et-Moselle, a part of Old Lorraine near Longwy, and later invaded Cirey-sur-Vezouze in the same department. German troops today crossed into French territory near Mars-La-Tour, where one of the most important battles of the Franco-Prussian war was fought August 16, 1870.

German troops continued throughout the night to harry the French outposts along the frontier by making numerous raids into French territory. The French, however, refused to be drawn beyond the six-mile zone left unoccupied along the frontier.

ENGLAND DEFIED BY GERMAN KAISER REGARDING BELGIUM

London, August 4.—Germany's reply to Sir Edward Grey's speech indicating the British attitude in regard to the violation of Belgian territory by Germany was a second ultimatum from Berlin to Brussels saying Germany was prepared to carry through her plans, by force of arms if necessary.

The British government was officially informed by Belgium today that German troops had invaded Belgium and that the violation of that country's neutrality, which the British foreign secretary yesterday intimated must be followed by action on the part of the British, had become an accomplished fact.

In the meantime John Burns has resigned from the British cabinet and Viscount Morley's absence from its meeting today indicated that this other strong peace advocate had also determined to leave his colleagues.

Diplomatic relations had already been severed last night between Germany and France and the German ambassador in leaving Paris informed the French premier that Germany regarded herself as in a state of war with France, which requested Germany to hand the French ambassador in Berlin his passports.

The open breach between France and Germany was rapidly followed by the appearance of German troops on French territory and by an incursion of bomb-hurling German aeroplanes which attacked the fortified town of Luneville without doing anything more than damaging a roadway.

French airmen and outposts were also reported to have made raids on German territory.

A more tangible occurrence was the bombardment of a French naval station at Bona, Algeria, by a German cruiser, which, however, retired before doing much damage. It now is cruising around the Mediterannean sea, where a considerable number of French war vessels are looking for such marauders.

In diplomatic quarters in London it was reported without confirmation that the Turkish army, which is being mobilized, will, if it participates in the general conflagration, remain under the command of General Liman von Sanders, the Prussian officer who acts as instructor.

Vital Importance of Belgium In a Franco-German Conflict

The vital importance of Belgium in a war between France and Germany lies in the fact that unless Germany may move across Belgian territory, neutralized by treaty, an invasion of France would have to be through the heavily fortified French frontier proper. The entire northeastern frontier of France is, roughly, 440 miles in length. For a distance of about 250 miles this frontier line separates France from Belgium and Luxemburg. The remainder, about 190 miles, separates France from German territory.

With the neutrality of Belgium observed the scene of action would be reduced to the splendidly fortified Franco-German frontier proper. This line of defense runs, broadly speaking, from Verdun to Nancy, to Epinal, to Belfort and to Besancon. Each one of these cities is the center of a group of fortifications extending northwest and southeast and all facing the German border. Each has its outposts and its flanking protection, and the line is said to be virtually continuous for the greater part of the entire distance between Luxemburg and the Swiss border.

Behind this line of fortifications France has a second line of defense, broadly speaking, running parallel from Rheims to Chalons and to Verdun and from Chalons to Langres, to Dijon and to Besancon. This second line of protection is from 80 to 120 miles from Paris and the first frontier line of fortifications is, roughly speaking, from 140 to 220 miles from the French capital. The French frontier from the Straits of Dover to German territory, the line which separates France from Belgium and Luxemburg, also is well protected.

Thus a German advance through Belgium is, in effect, "going around the end."

WAR OF JEALOUSY DECLARES THE KAISER

empire stepped in the way of Austria-Hungary.

"Not only our duty as an ally called us to the side of Austria-Hungary, but the great task was cast upon us to protect our position against unfriendly forces.

"It was with a heavy heart I was compelled to mobilize my army. The Russian government, giving way to an insatiable nationalism, has stepped to the side of a state which, through a criminal act, had brought about the calamity of this war. Taht France also placed herself on the side of our opponent was not surprising to us.

Jealousy Is Charged.

"The present situation arose not from temporary conflicts of interest or diplomatic combinations, but is the result of ill will existing for years against the strength and prosperity of the German empire.

"We are not pushed on by the desire of conquest. We are moved by the unbending desire to secure for ourselves and those coming after us the place on which God has put us.

"My government and, above all, my chancellor, tried until the last moment to prevent the worst happening.

"In enforced self-defense, with clear conscience and clean hands we grasp the sword.

"To the peoples and races of the German empire my appeal goes forth to stand together fraternally with our allies in defense of that which we have created in peaceful work.

"Following the example of our forefathers, firm and faithful, earnest and chivalrous, humble before our God and ready to fight when in face of the enemy, let us confide ourselves to the everlasting Almighty, who will strengthen our defense and conduct it to a good end."

Knows Only Germans.

At the conclusion of his spech from the throne the emperor addressed the deputies directly, saying:

"Gentlemen: You have read what I said to my people the other day from the balcony of my castle. I repeat now that I no longer know any parties. I know only Germans, and in order to testify that you are firmly resolved, without distinction of party, to stand by my side through danger and death, I call upon the leaders of the different parties in this house to come forward and lay their hands in mine as a pledge."

Dr. Von Bethwan-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor, said:

"France was able to wait; we were not. A French aggression in our flank would have been disastrous, and we, therefore, were compelled to overrule legitimate protests of the Luxemburg and Belgian governments. We shall repair the wrong we are doing as soon as our military aims have been reached.

"We are acting in self-defense and necessity knows no law. Our troops have occupied Luxemburg and perhaps already have advanced into Belgian territory. This is against the law of nations. The French government has declared in Brussels it would respect the neutrality of Belgium as long as it was respected with reference to herself. But we knew France was ready for invasion. We were forced to set aside the justified protests of the Luxemburg and Belgian governments. We shall rectify the injustice as soon as our military object is achieved.

Germany Fighting for Life.

"He who is as menaced as we are and is fighting for dear life must think only how to cut an opening to get through.

"As far as England is concerned, the declarations which Sir Edward Grey made yesterday have cleared up the standpoint of the English government. We have made a declaration to the English government that so long as England remains neutral our navy will not attack the northern coast of France and that we will not violate the independence of Belgium.

"The great hour of trial for our people has now struck, but we advance to it with confidence. Our army is in the field, our navy is ready for battle; the whole German nation is behind them.

"Whatever our lot may be," the chancellor added, "the 4th of August, 1914, will remain through all eternity one of Germany's greatest days."

HEART OF ENGLAND NOT AT ALL LIGHT

the British navy we can make certain of that vital condition."

The work will be undertaken by the state insurance office. The chancellor expressed the hope that the time for putting the scheme into operation had not arrived, but if it had, the plan would relieve the anxiety of shipping interests.

The government today took control of railroads.

The complete preparations of the government to place all the machinery of the country on a war footing came as a revelation to the people who have grumbled over the government's supposed backwardness in military organization.

Vice Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, in whom the nation reposes the utmost confidence, has been gazetted commander of the British fleet. Field Marshal Earl Kitchener undoubtedly will take charge of the army.

German Ambassador Hooted.

A mob gathered outside the German embassy in Carlton house terrace tonight. The demonstrators groaned and hooted and finally stones were thrown which broke windows. The German ambassador, Prince Lichnowsky, with the members of his staff, was in the garden, but quickly withdrew to the house.

A force of mounted and foot police reinforced the regular guard and drove off the crowd with difficulty.

Thousands assembled tonight before Buckingham palace until the king and queen, the Prince of Wales and Princess Mary appeared on the balcony.

The statues of military heroes throughout the city were being draped with flags.

Canada to Aid England.

Ottawa, Ont., August 4.—The news that a state of war exists between England and Germany was received at the capital without excitement. Newspapers containing the announcement were eagerly bought, but there was no demonstration in the streets. Premier Borden summoned a meeting of the cabinet to take the administrative steps made necessary by war conditions. It was decided that parliament should be summoned to vote the funds needed to raise and equip a force of 20,000 men and, if necessary, dispatch them to join the British armies at the front. Armed guards tonight were placed at strategic points, such as canal locks, important railway bridges and terminals, military ports and cable stations.

AMERICAN RED CROSS TO AID ALL NATIONS

Washington, August 4.—The American Red Cross decided late today to formally tender its services to all the nations involved in the European war. The international relief board will meet tomorrow to consider ways and means.

GERMAN LINERS RACE FOR NEUTRAL PORTS

They Fear Capture by the Cruisers of Great Britain.

New York, August 4.—With war formally declared between England and Germany there was keen interest in marine circles tonight regarding the movement of trans-Atlantic steamships, particularly German liners, which are scurrying to port to avoid possible capture.

The arrival of the treasure-laden Kronprinzessin Cecilie at Bar Harbor, Maine, today led to the belief here that another North German-Lloyd liner, the Kaiser Wilhelm II, hours overdue, in New York, may turn up unexpectedly in some other American port. This vessel has not been heard from since touching at Cherbourg July 29.

Fears for Vaterland.

German steamship agents here are taking every precaution to prevent any hostile movement being carried out against their vessels in this port. The Vaterland of the Hamburg-American line is closely guarded by city police and private detectives at her Hoboken pier. It was admitted that the company's officials were adopting measures to frustrate any attempt to blow up the vessel. The German consul in New York today directed that all the French waiters on the Vaterland be discharged.

At the Vaterland's pier tonight a powerful searchlight was turned on every passing vessel in the Hudson, following it until it passed out of the vicinity of the company's docks. The Vaterland was being loaded with coal all day, but the company stated that no move would be made to send the vessel to Germany nor would the Imperator, now in Hamburg, leave that port.

Of other German vessels for which the company expressed anxiety tonight the Prinz Eitel Friedrich, of the Hamburg-American line, was hugging the New Jersey coast, trying to keep within the American 3-mile neutrality zone on her voyage to New York from West Indian ports. The President Lincoln, of this line, from Hamburg, was speeding toward Nantucket, seeking neutral waters.

Two German Liners in English Ports.

Little hope was expressed by the Hamburg-American line officials tonight that they would hear anything direct from two of their passenger liners now in the English port of Falmouth, the Kronprinzessin Cecilie and the Prinz Adalbert.

Cable advices told of the Hamburg-American liner Belgia, from Boston to Hamburg, off the English coast today and apparently fearful of capture.

With at least one German cruiser known to be hovering off the Atlantic coast, no surprise was expressed tonight when a large passener steamship, slipping past Fire island with only running lights showing, proved to be the White Star liner Olympic, from Southampton and Queenstown.

Nothing had been heard tonight from the Kronprinz Wilhelm, the North German Lloyd steamship which left port suddenly last night with coal and carrying, it was thought, a big gun on her forward deck. Her destination was reported as being Bremen, but incoming vessels later reported that the German ship turned south after passing Sandy Hook. It was thought her mission was to supply the German cruiser with fuel.

The North German Lloyd steamer Barbarossa was being coaled and provisioned today. Nothing was announced as to the intentions of her owners.

WARSHIP OF RUSSIA REPORTED AGROUND

Copenhagen, August 4.—A Russian warship is aground at Aland Islands. It is said to be the Andrei Pervogvannyi, a battleship of 17,400 tons, laid down in 1903.

A dispatch from Stockholm yesterday said that the Russians had been defeated in a naval engagement off the Aland Islands, the Russian vessels later taking refuge in the gulf of Finland.

GERMANS DROP BOMBS ON FRENCH FORTRESS

Paris, August 4.—A German army aeroplane last evening dropped three bombs on the French fortified town of Luneville, to the southeast of Nancy. Some property damage was caused, but there were no casualties.

FRENCH ARMY CHIEF GOES TO THE FRONTIER

GERMANY GIVES NOTICE OF A "STATE OF WAR"

Washington, August 4.—The German embassy served notice on the United States today that a "state of war" exists between France and Germany. That is tantamount to a declaration of war, differing from the latter only technically.

The notice from the German counsellor at Newport is practically the same as the announcement in Berlin last night by the German premier in which he sought to place upon France full responsibility for the beginning of hostilities.

The notice justifies the United States and other neutral countries in the issue of formal proclamations of neutrality and sets in motion all legal machinery necessary to empower the German government itself to proceed as in the case of an actual declaration of war.

The only difference noted here between the two forms is that the "state of war" announcement still relieves the German government of liability for the initiation of hostilities such as would be carried by the issue of a formal declaration of war, a point which will figure largely in negotiations which must close hostilities in the end.

ADVOCATE OF FRANCE EXECUTED BY GERMANS

Paris, August 4.—The French minister of war today issued the following note:

"The German ambassador has demanded his passports and diplomatic relations between France and Germany have been broken off.

"War is declared.

"The first act of the Germans, according to information from a positive source to the minister of war, was to execute M. Samain, former president of the French war society, who lived in Motz, and to imprison all the members of that society."

WILSON IS REQUESTED TO PROPOSE MEDIATION

Washington, August 4.—A resolution directing President Wilson to approach the warring nations of Europe with an offer of good offices of this government was introduced today by Senator McCumber and referred to the committee on foreign relations. He will ask for a favorable report tomorrow.

The resolution would have the president urge either mediation or arbitration. It declares the United States is the only great power whose national interests are not directly affected.

GERMANY BEGS ITALY NOT TO DESERT HER

Rome, August 4.—Germany has made an appeal to Italy to stand with her, according to The Giornale D'Italia. The newspaper says the attention of the Italian government has been called to what Germany describes as hostile acts on the part of France, which the German government asserts come within the terms of the treaty of alliance even though on account of these acts the declaration of war came from Germany.

The Giornale D'Italia says it understands the Italian government will not change its attitude of neutrality.

JELLICOE IN COMMAND OF BRITISH FLEETS

London, August 4.—Vice Admiral Sir John Jellicoe today assumed supreme command of the British home fleets, with the acting rank of admiral. His chief of staff is to be Rear Admiral Charles R. Madden.

The new naval commander-in-chief took a prominent part in Admiral Seymour's advance to the assistance of the legations at Pekin during the Boxer rising.

MRS. HERRICK TO JOIN FRENCH RED CROSS

Paris, August 4.—Mrs. Myron T. Herrick, wife of the American ambassador, desires to join the French Red Cross, and is only waiting to determine if official considerations would make her offer of her services unwise.

"My wife," said Ambassador Herrick, "feels that this is the greatest service she can do for humanity."

Count Du Mounceau, who is organizing the French Red Cross, says that thousands of French women, including almost all the titled women of France, and many American women, are volunteering their services.

SWITZERLAND READY TO GUARD NEUTRALITY

Berne, Switzerland, August 4.—The military mobilization of Switzerland has been completed. Every railway bridge and mountain pass is occupied. The precautions have extended to the commandeering of all available provisions and all means of locomotion. Even bicycles have been requisitioned.

JAPAN TO AID ENGLAND IN FAR EAST WATERS

Tokio, Japan, August 4.—A proclamation issued today by the Japanese government expresses anxiety as to the European situation and hopes for the speedy restoration of peace. It points out Japan's desire to remain neutral during the war, which it hopes will not extend to other parts of the world. However, it says that should England participate in the hostilities and the purposes of the Anglo-Japanese alliance be threatened, Japan may be compelled to take the necessary measures for the fulfillmnt of its obligations.

The Japanese proclamation was issued after an extraordinary session of the cabinet and was generally interpreted as preparing the people of Japan for the action of the Japanese navy as soon as Great Britain's decision has been announced.

The German fleet is very active around Kiao-Chau and has already captured a Russian cattle steamer.

Extraordinary excitement prevails in Tokio.

BELGIANS ARE CALLED TO FIGHT GERMANS and shouted in chorus the closing words of King Albert's speech.

Premier DeBroqueville then made a statement as to Germany's ultimatum to Belgium and the reply of Belgium, declaring that the government would not sacrifice the country's honor and that the nation would resist by every means in its power all encroachments on its rights. He added:

"The word is, therefore, to arms! Upon this land of ours we shall not weaken and even if we are conquered we never shall submit. Belgium supported by the united energies of her sons will not perish."

Another prolonged patriotic demonstration followed, the queen and her children who were present being loudly cheered.

M. Vandervelds, the socialist leader, today joined the Belgian cabinet so that all political parties might be represented in the government.

The chamber appropriated $40,000,000 for defense.

BRITISH AMBASSADOR DEMANDS PASSPORTS

Germany Formally Notified of the English Declaration of War.

Berlin, August 4.—Shortly after 7 o'clock this evening Sir William Goschen, the British ambassador, went to the foreign office and announced that Great Britain had declared war with Germany. He then demanded his passports.

Up to 6:30 o'clock tonight no war news of importance had come to hand from either hostile front.

Mobilization here is proceeding quickly. Military trains are being sent away from the city only at night.

As recruits pass through the streets they are cheered enthusiastically by the populace and in acknowledgement they wave their caps, shout "Hurrah!" and sing "Die Wacht Am Rhine." Eighty thousand volunteers have joined the colors in addition to soldiers called out by the military authorities.

The Boy Scout alliance has issued a call saying boy scouts must hasten to assist the fatherland either in the bicycle service or in the gathering of the crops.

University authorities at Leipsic, Munich and other cities have called students to the colors.

The military authorities have placarded orders setting prices for flour and salt that consumers may not be charged exorbitant prices. The pressure at the banks today by depositors seeking money was less than yesterday. Gold had disappeared from circulation.

TURKEY IS MOBILIZING BUT WILL BE NEUTRAL

London, August 4.—Turkey has informed Great Britain that the forces of the Ottoman empire are being mobilized. The mobilization, Turkeys says, is a precautionary measure, and Turkey will remain absolutely neutral.

In some quarters, however, it is believed this step is being taken by Turkey in the fear that the Russian Black sea fleet will attempt to force the Bosphorus and that Russia may even land troops on the Turkish shores of the Black sea and seize Constantinople.

GOLD TO BE SENT FOR AMERICANS ON U.S. WARSHIP

Cruiser Tennessee Will Carry Millions to Enable Stranded Tourists to Get Out of Europe's War Zone.

WILSON ASKS CONGRESS TO GIVE HIM $2,500,000

This Sum Will Be Used to Get Americans in Europe Back to the United States Safely.

Washington, August 4.—Relief for the tens of thousands of Americans in European war zones will be extended through every power and influence at the disposal of the United States. Millions in gold will be sent on a warship for immediate needs and ships that can be gathered from American coastwise trade and from neutral nations will be utilized in an effort to bring the 100,000 Americans home.

Officials of the state, war, navy and treasury departments conferred on plans to co-ordinate the work. For immediate relief, President Wilson asked congress to appropriate $2,500,000. This, with the $250,000 appropriated yesterday by congress, will be started across the Atlantic tomorrow night on the armored cruiser Tennessee. Bankers and express companies also will send $5,000,000 to $8,000,000 of gold on the Tennessee. The Tennessee will carry government officials to distribute the gold at European ports for American diplomatic bureaus to aid stranded Americans.

The Ships Available.

A canvass today of available ships revealed that with the exception of six ocean liners flying the American flag, there are only thirty transports, coastwise ships and other vessels of American register available for transporting Americans home. The latter would carry about 7,000 passengers, so that a total of only 16,000 people could be transported, according to estimates.

The state department estimates that of the 100,000 or more Americans in Europe, about 20,000 urgently want to return. The others have money enough to stay in Europe until a second trip is made. Should more Americans want to depart, the only thing administration officials think can be done, is to charter the vessels possible owned by neutral countries.

Details of the transportation problem will not be worked out for several days. Secretary Garrison voiced the view of administration officials, that there was no particular reason for alarm.

"There can be no peril to Americans abroad," he said, "as the first thought of the warring nations naturally would be to look out for the safety of foreigners, particularly Americans. I do not feel disturbed in the slightest degree."

To Grant $2,500,000.

Secretaries Bryan and McAdoo hastened to the capitol after the president's message requesting the $2,500,000 for an American relief fund had been read in both houses. The appropriations committee quickly determined to recommend the provision that the "two and a half million dollars the government will send over will be for the relief of Americans who haveexhausted their funds and their letters of credit," said Secretary McAdoo.

"This fund will be disbursed by the government and only to Americans who actually are without funds or provision to get them. At the same time the New York bankers will send to Europe five or ten millions for the relief of Americans who still have credits."

Adolph C. Miller, member of the federal reserve board, is actively in charge of the financial end of the relief campaign.

With every prospect of its being passed by the senate tomorrow the bill amending the Panama canal act to provide for the admission of foreign built ships to American registry for the foreign trade was favorably reported from the inter-oceanic canals committee during the day by Senator O'Gorman.

AMERICANS SEEK MONEY AND PASSAGE.

London, August 4.—Americans today crowded the offices of the American express companies and the steamship lines trying to get checks cashed and secure passage home. The express companies aided many of those in financial straits and the steamship companies booked hundreds of passages, although it is probable no sailing guarantee can be given until safety is assured by the navy.

The greatest demand was for berths on American liners. Persons who usually travel in the most luxurious cabins were buying berths in the steerage at greatly increased prices.

The main office of the International Merchants Marine was jammed all day with Americans and a like condition prevailed at the offices of the Cunard and Canadian lines, all of which are still doing business. The German line offices are dismantled and in charge of porters and English clerks, who made no attempt to attract passengers in the customary manner.

The express company's office, which opened at an early hour, were crowded throughout the day. They were well supplied with currency and honored checks up to $50. The American Express company supplied the temporary wants of more than 3,000 persons from the time the office opened until 2 o'clock this afternoon, when it closed for the day. There were still hundreds in line desiring gold in exchange for their checks. They were told to return tomorrow.

The Wells-Fargo Express company, which issues checks chiefly to westerners, was open all day. During the morning the cashiers were busy honoring checks, but the rush stopped early in the afternoon. The company's manager said he could meet the temporary requirements of holders of drafts for some time to come.

Individual Americans are helping their countrymen by advancing money to enable them to tide over temporary inconveniences. Robert C. Hoover, a Californian, opened an office today in the American consulate and advanced amounts of $25 and upward to persons unable to get money by other means.

Many Americans tell pitiful tales of trials on their flight from the continent. Those from Paris and nearer points had a bad enough time, but those who had come from Germany or places even more remote were forced to go several days without sleep and in some instances without food.

One woman related how she and her daughter, with only a sovereign (about $5) between them, made their way to England from Prussia. They traveled by train and steamer. They had been without food for fourteen hours.

TOURISTS RACING FROM WAR ZONE.

Brussels, Belgium, August 4.—Hundreds of American tourists, surprised by events in the European situation, hurried from Switzerland and Germany to Luxemburg and Belgium. Railroad communication being interrupted at the German frontier, many hired horses and carriages, piling their baggage on the vehicles. Others arrived exhausted on foot in Luxemburg, whence a great party reached Ostend en route for London.

Several hundred tourists are said to have been help up between Hasel, Switzerland, and Luxemburg, the German authorities refusing to let them continue on their way.

The American minister to Belgium, Brand Whitlock, and the American consular officials are intervening actively in the situation.

NO AMERICANS CAN LEAVE GERMANY.

Washington, August 4.—No Americans can leave Germany for the present. Through the German embassy at Newport the state department has been informed that during the progress of mobilization no foreigners will be permitted to depart.

The German order applies alike to men, women and children, although its purpose is to prevent the flight from Germany of men eligible for military service under pretext of citizenship. The inclusion of women and children in the decree is explained by the apprehension that valuable military information regarding the process of mobilization and especially the points of concentration of the German army forces might be conveyed to the enemy by women.

AMERICANS TO SAIL ON FRENCH LINER.

Paris, August 4.—Nearly 2,000 Americans are to sail for the United States on board the French liner France, whose officers have consented to give up their cabins in order to provide accommodation for passengers. Jean Jules Jusserand, the French ambassador to the United States, has booked his passage on this vessel.

SCHUMANN-HEINK CALLS FOR HELP.

Chicago, August 4.—Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink today cabled her attorneys in Chicago for assistance to get out of Germany. The German singer is a naturalized American.

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of schools, and 400 Chicago teachers are traveling in Europe.

SERIOUS FOR AMERICANS IN FRENCH CAPITAL.

Paris, August 4.—The scarcity of provisions in Paris and the withholding of money by the French banks today increased the seriousness of the situation insofar as it affected Americans.

Henry W. Diederich, the American consul general in Paris, today sent a cablegram to Washington asking the state department to send a relief ship to relieve the distress of American citizens.

The French line steamer Chicago is to sail from Havre on Saturday next.

PLEASANT STOVALL AIDING AMERICANS.

Berne, Switzerland, August 4.—Pleasant A. Stovall, American minister, and American consuls throughout Switzerland are doing all in their power to aid American tourists. Trains for Italy are running irregularly.

It is difficult to estimate the number of Americans in this country, but it probably exceeds ten thousand.

NEUTRAL DECREE BY UNITED STATES

Proclamation Is Issued by President Wilson Regarding the European War. Americans Warned.

Washington, August 4.—Neutrality of the United States in the great European war was formally proclaimed today by President Wilson.

Reciting the fact that "a state of war unhappily exists between Austria-Hungary and Servia and between Germany and Russia and between Germany and France," the president warned all American citizens and foreigners resident in the United States against violating the neutrality laws.

Citizens of the United States abroad were given notice that any misconduct on their part would be at their own peril.

It has been a foregone conclusion that the United States would be neutral, and in this connection virtually only one problem has presented itself to the Washington government. This has been furnished by the activities of diplomatic and consular agents of the contending powers in rounding up their reservists in America.

Large bodies of men have been gathered at various points by German, French, Servian, Russian and British representatives, and preparations are being made to transport them abroad as soon as an opportunity offers. In some quarters it is contended this is a violation of the neutrality law. Officials here, however, hold that such activities do not come within the inhibited setting on foot of a "military expedition."

In construing the law the supreme court has held that it does not prohibit "the transportation from this country in the same ship of few or many men whose known intention before leaving our shores is to engage in hostilities against the forces of a foreign power, provided that such men do not constitute a military expedition or a military enterprise."

AUSTRIANS DEFEATED BY THE SERVIAN ARMY

Losses of the Austrians Are Reported to Be Very Heavy.

Paris, August 4.—A dispatch from Nish, Servia, to the Matin says the Austrian troops were defeated with heavy loss in a battle against the Servians on Sunday near Semendria.

Three regiments of Austrian infantry, comprising nearly ten thousand men supported by heavy artillery, advanced against the Servians but were repulsed, leaving many dead and wounded on the field.

A large force of Austrian troops aided by a flotilla of monitors composed of twenty vessels has been trying for the last six days to cross the river Save into Servian territory but has not succeeded in landing.

PLAN TO PREVENT LOSSES ON COTTON

Senator Hoke Smith and Other Southern Representatives to See President in Regard to Situation.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, August 4.—(Special.) How to protect the south and its cotton industry from disastrous losses growing out of the European war was the subject of an important conference held today in the office of Senator Hoke Smith.

A committee appointed by Senator Smith as chairman of last night's meeting of senators and representatives from cotton growing states, met him today and discussed the war cloud whose shadow stretches over the entire cotton industry.

It was decided to send a sub-committee to confer with President Wilson in regard to the situation and others to talk with Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Secretary of State Bryan.

The difficulty that must be overcome is that of getting cotton to the European spinners. It is inevitable that many of the mills will be shut down because of the war in sections which are in the pathway of the armies, and others because of the demoralization of the force of operatives. But there is no reason to doubt that most of the mills in the Lancashire district of England will be kept open and running full time.

What the Southerners Seek.

From the various departments of the government the southerners will seek counsel and advice on these features:

First—How to finance the cotton crop during the period of the war.

Second—How to transport the crop to foreign markets in view of the lack of foreign ships.

Third—The actual condition of the mills abroad.

"The main thing to look after first," said Senator Hoke Smith, "is the transportation and consumption of the cotton. We want to get this cotton consumed so as not to have a surplus to glut the market. If we can facilitate consumption, danger will be alleviated."

The committee named to see the president will consist of Senators Hoke Smith, of Georgia; Overman, of North Carolina, and Bryan, of Florida, and Representatives Underwood, of Alabama, and Lee, of Georgia.

Representative Lever, of South Carolina, is chairman of the subcommittee which will call on Secretary McAdoo and endeavor to devise some plan to enable the farmers to hold their cotton, or to have it held in warehouses as security for loans and sold only as needed.

Impetus For Merchant Marine.

A tremendous impetus has been given by the war to the movement for the development of an American merchant marine. The Alexander bill, which passed the house on yesterday and was favorably considered by a senate committee today, will liberalize the navigation laws. Foreign built ships owned by Americans may be brought under American registry regardless of how long ago they were constructed, under the new law.

The Weeks bill which the senate has passed permits the use of auxiliary naval vessels in the merchant trade to Europe and South America when not needed for naval purposes.

Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, offered a bill today to permit the government to buy merchant ships wherever she could obtain them and operate these ships during the present disturbance of business. It is probable that the owners of ships sailing under the flags of governments which are now at war, would be glad to part with them at 50 cents on the dollar to save them from entire destruction at the hands of an enemy's fleet.

All these movements in congress tend one way, that is to the upbuilding of a line of American merchantmen to improve the unparalleled opportunities for extension of foreign trade now presented to the United States.

After the European war of extermination is over, the United States will probably be the richest and most powerful nation on the globe.

Says England Will Clear Seas.

Senator John Sharp Williams predicted today that American, British, Dutch and Scandinavian merchant ships soon would be operating because he believed the German fleet would be bottled up in the Baltic and there would be no fear of carrying on commerce. The British cotton mills, he believed, would continue to operate and he also expressed confidence that some of the French mills would remain in operation and need American cotton.

COASTWISE SHIPS FOR ATLANTIC SERVICE.

New York, Aug. 4.—Steamships flying the American flag and engaged in the coastwise trade for the most part are to be offered to the government for trans-Atlantic service. Offers of many vessels have been sent to Commissioner of Navigation Chamberlain at Washington.

The question of insurance, although the rates may be thought excessive, can be settled after the ships are found, it is said. The most suitable vessels for the transportation trade are the Pacific liners now engaged in the trade with Asia. These might be brought through the Panama canal.

Of vessels already in Atlantic waters the best for a trans-oceanic service would be twenty-three of the Southern Pacific line, all fit for over-ocean sailing.

The vessels of the American line fly the flag of the United States and can continue to cross the ocean in safety. In addition there are two Red Star steamships that are now of American registry—the Finland and the Kroonland. This makes six ships of the International Mercantile Marine which are immune.

There are besides available ships of the Red D. line, the Ward line, the Clyde, Old Dominion and other lines in the coastwise trade.

CLEARING HOUSE FOR THE NATIONS.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Secretary McAdoo brought up at the cabinet meeting the subject of an International Clearing House association in which the United States and European nations should hold membership as one method by which the country might insure the disposition of its wheat and cotton crops in foreign markets. With the banks of the country fortified with millions of additional currency, officials feel that the immediate problem is how to take care of the crops.

The establishment of an international association and the resumption of trade, it was pointed out, would not only result in the sale of American crops but would tend to bring back to the United States much of the gold recently exported.

ENGLISH SPINNERS TO CURTAIL WORK.

London, August 4.—The federation of cotton spinners has urged owners of spindles engaged on American cotton who agreed to a three weeks' suspension of work before September to arrange for the curtailment as speedily as possible.

The cotton exchange at Manchester will be closed Wednesday and Thursday as dealers have found it impossible to transact business.

GOLD LADEN LINER FLEES TO REFUGE

German Kronprinzessin Cecilie Puts in at Bar Harbor. Steamer Turned Back to Escape French Cruisers.

Bar Harbor, Maine, August 4—The North German Lloyd steamer Kronprinzessin Cecilie, carrying more than $10,000,000 gold and whose whereabouts have been more or less of a mystery since she sailed from New York last Tuesday, arrived in the harbor here today.

The Cecilie dropped anchor here at 6 o'clock this morning after a forced run of four days, her officers fearing capture.

With a cargo of ten millions in gold and a million in silver consigned to French and English bankers and estimated to be worth over five millions herself, the Kronprinzessin Cecilie has constituted probably the finest sea prize ever open to capture.

As she crept along the Maine coast and into the harbor under the cover of night, each deck, at every port hole, was blanketed with canvas so that not a gleam of light betrayed her whereabouts. Her four white stacks had been tipped with black paint so that she resembled an English steamship.

Capture Imminent at One Time.

At one time capture was imminent. Captain Charles Polack reported on Sunday that he had intercepted a wireless message from one French vessel to another giving warning of the Cecilie's proximity, but under cover of a providential fog the North German Lloyd liner escaped.

The Kronprinzesian Cecile left New York early last Tuesday morning bound for Bremen via Plymouth and Cherbourg. She had 350 first-class, 130 second-class and 736 steerage passengers. About a third of the first-class are Germans. Most of the rest are Americans.

Friday night, while a dance was in progress, one of the passengers noticed that the position of the moon had shifted to the port side. Before the significance of this was realized the captain called the men into the smoking room.

"Gentlemen," he said, "war has been declared between England, France, Germany and Austria; we are going back to America. We have enough coal for our return home, and it is my earnest hope that we shall not be intercepted by foreign war vessels."

There was nervous laughter, applause, oaths, congratulations, protests, which gave way to a grave state of apprehension as the seriousness of the situation became apparent. Lights were turned off, and the ship was covered from prow to stern in canvas to smother any light from stateroom windows. The ship was within two days of Plymouth when she turned.

Offered to Buy Ship.

A group of financiers on board offered to buy the ship and sail her under American colors. But the captain replied it was his duty to turn back and save his ship. He would not permit use of the wireless for fear of betraying the ship's location.

The American port which the captain would try to make was a matter for unlimited speculation until the passengers awoke this morning.

For two nights, with her head and sidelights extinguished and every other illumination blotted out with canvas, the Kronprinzessin Cecilie plunged through the fog with unreduced speed and without sounding her fog horns.

At 9 o'clock today the ship was waiting the arrival of boarding officers.

Among the passengers were Congessman A. J. Barfield, of Pennsylvania; Richard Barthoidt, of Missouri; C. Ledyard Blair, of New York; Governor Charles R. Miller, of Delaware, and Samuel Newhouse, the copper magnate of Utah and New York.

Captain Polack is awaiting advices from his line officers in New York. "I can see no possibility of faking this ship to New York from here with safety," he said. "To avoid foreign vessels we would have to keep within the 3-mile limit, and to accomplish this the ship would have to be built like a canoe. We have reached an American port in safety, and that was more than I had dared to hope."

Finest Ship of Line.

New York, August 4.—The Kronprinzessin Cecilie is the finest ship of the North German Lloyd fleet. News of her safe arrival at Bar Harbor was received at the line offices here in a telegram from Captain Polack.

The gold aboard the vessel—more than ten million dollars—was consigned by New York bankers to London and Paris.

Officials of one of the big banks here which was shipping more than $3,000,000 in gold on the liner, expressed great disappointment over her return. Some of them said frankly that they would have been glad if the vessel had been captured by the French. In such an event, they thought, the French captors would have seen to it that the metal reached its destination.

Arrangements were being made today for the return of the gold to New York. Apparently all efforts to have it shipped on any other vessel have been abandoned.

Sponsors to Panama Exposition.

The Georgia commission for the Panama-Pacific International exposition plans to have a number of sponsors for the state, and will give free trips to San Francisco next year to three of them. One will be chosen from south Georgia, one from north Georgia and the third from middle Georgia.

There will be one from every county, one from each of the congressional districts and then from these three will be selected for the state-at-large.

All the sponsors will receive special attentions and courtesies when they visit San Francisco, and will be honor guests at social affairs.

The positions will be awarded according to the number of state souvenirs sold at $1 each, the proceeds going to the state exhibit.

Colonel Walter Andrews, of Atlanta, gave a premium for the first one, paying $5 for it. He was chairman of the commission which went to Europe last winter in the interest of the exposition.

Any lady in the state is eligible for the position of sponsor. The chairman of the Georgia commission, Frank Weldon, of Atlanta, will give information about the sponsors' places and how to get them.

Face Peeling Easy— Blond or Brunette

"The blonde's complexion fades early, because her skin is extraordinarily thin and fine," says Mme. Lina Cavalieri. "The brunette's, as a rule, is the reverse. The skin is thicker and has a tendency to an oily appearance."

For either the faded blonde's skin or the brunette's oily or sallow complexion, the best remedy is ordinary mercolized wax. Used every night, this will give one an entirely new complexion within about a week's time. The wax gradually peels off the worn-out surface skin, with all its defects, a little each day, without affecting the delicate underskin in the least. The latter will have the exquisitely beautiful glow of youth—indeed, one may readily lose ten or fifteen years from her age, so far as appearance goes, by a course of this simple treatment. The wax, securable at any drug store, is applied like cold cream.—(adv.)

Old Blue Back Spellers Presented as Souvenirs At Rotary Club Luncheon

Old-fashioned "blue back spellers" edited by Noah Webster, and famous in the days of the Little Red School House, were presented as souvenirs at the Rotary club luncheon yesterday afternoon at the Winecoff. The club is going to hold a sure-enough country spelling bee at some meeting in the early future.

Seventy members attended the meeting, which was presided over by President Albert S. Adams. Among the out-of-town visitors were Lee Holloway, of Montgomery, who came as the guest of Lee Jordan, and Harry Hasson, of Jacksonville, who came as the guest of his brother-in-law, Valdemar Gude.

Mr. Holloway, in a brief speech, credited the Atlanta club with helping to found the Montgomery organization, which he said was thriving. Mr. Hasson said the Jacksonville club was making splendid progress and was watching with enthusiastic interest the accomplishments of the Atlanta club.

A special committee was appointed, composed of Jas. T. Scott, Ben Lee Crew and F. J. Paxon, to take up the question of whether or not any Rotarians would accompany the Old Guard on the proposed trip to Baltimore in September, to take part in the Star Spangled Banner centennial celebration.

CONGESTION IS FEARED AT PORT OF SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., August 4.—(Special.) A serious problem confronts transportation lines, exporters and business people generally in this territory through the probable congestion at the port of Savannah of commerce destined for foreign points.

Steps are already being taken by railroad officials to prevent the shipment of staple goods to Savannah. The idea that is being considered is to have all export freight held at its place of origin until the present condition is relieved. At present the export trade is stagnated. Not a vessel has left for a foreign port in days, and the prospect for an early movement is becoming more doubtful every day.

The cotton and naval stores people feel the effects of the European disturbance more keenly, perhaps, than all other interests combined. Familiarity with the situation has caused the gravest concern to the interests handling and financing the movement of these commodities.

Naval stores men are extremely blue. They were just beginning to recover from last season's reverses, occasioned by the failure of the American Naval Stores company. This season's prospects were bright until a few days ago, when the European war cloud began to hover over that part of the world where most of the product is consumed. Now everything for this season is black for them.

JORDAN DISCUSSES RURAL CREDIT SYSTEM

Advises Merchants of the South Not to Be Frightened Over the War Scare.

The assembly hall of the chamber of commerce building was crowded to capacity last night at the most successful meeting the Southern States Merchants' association has ever held.

The meeting was enthusiastic and it adjourned with the association more closely welded together than ever before.

J. W. Vaughan, a progressive merchant of Cartersville, presided over the meeting.

Governor John M. Slaton and Mayor James G. Woodward welcomed the merchants with rousing speeches, and were heartily applauded.

Jordan on Credits.

The principal speech of the evening was made by Harvey Jordan, of Atlanta, a cotton expert, who has recently been abroad on a government mission to study Europe's rural credits systems. His subject was "Rural Credits."

After outlining the rural credits systems of European countries, Mr. Jordan declared that bonds issued against improved farm lands in Europe are regarded as the best gilt-edge security across the waters.

He deplored the fact that improved farm lands as a security for long-time loans have been outlawed in this country until the adoption of the recent banking and currency law, but said he hoped for better conditions when the provisions for such loans under this law shall have been carried out.

Mr. Jordan declared that the production of cattle in the northern and middle west has reached its maximum, and that the south is looked to to meet the increasing deficiency. He predicted the cattle production in the south will come largely from the sections that have been devastated by the boll weevil, and said that sections being threatened by the pest will do well to enter now upon the cattle-raising industry.

He urged the general introduction of diversified farming and declared that the merchants should be as much interested in the promotion of diversified agriculture as the farmers themselves, inasmuch as the prosperity of the merchants is dependent upon the prosperity of the farmers.

Finance for Farmer.

Mr. Jordan declared that when congress convenes next December we are going to have a system of finance for the benefit of the farmer, especially in respect to long-time loans on farm lands.

In closing he touched upon the condition of the cotton market as affected by the present war crisis in Europe. He declared that the lack of demand for cotton is only temporary, and that he is confident adequate arrangements will be made to take care of the crop during this temporary lethargy.

When Mr. Jordan had finished speaking Mr. Vaughan addressed a few remarks to the merchants, urging a closer co-operation and a stronger organization.

When he urged the visiting merchants to buy in Atlanta he was greeted with applause.

He closed his talk by urging the merchants not to become "war-scared." He pointed out that people have got to eat and be clothed and that in order to do so they have to produce, wherefore, war or no war, the business of this country cannot help but continue.

The meeting closed with a buffet supper, served by J. Lee Barnes, manager of the Majestic hotel. The supper was greatly enjoyed, as were also the drinkables and cigars which put the finishing touches on it.

Incidentally, the cigars were Atlanta-made and were the compliments of Ralph Kahn, manufacturer of the "Big Chief" brand.

Cabaret features were furnished by Jake Matthiesen's orchestra; Blanche DuPree, of coon-shouting fame, and by the Imperial Comedy Four.

Hundreds of merchants from all sections of the south arrived in Atlanta Tuesday and many more are expected Wednesday.

The entertainment feature of Wednesday will be a fine program of "movies" at the Alamo theater No 2, on Whitehall street, Wednesday night.

Visiting Delegates.

Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock the visitors will be taken on a tour of the city with a reception at the Piedmont Driving club.

YEGGMEN ARE TAKEN TO GRIFFIN, GA.

Rexford P. Fields, alias "Texas Rex," who formerly lived at 89 Brookline street; William B. Grant, alias "Gray," alias "Des Moines Billy," and Arthur O. Perry, alias "Missouri Slim," alias "Cincinnati Red," who have been in the Fulton county Tower since March 15, charged with blowing the Walker Bros. Co.'s safe at Griffin, Ga., the night of March 14, at which time $800 in cash money was pilfered, were last night transferred to the Spalding county jail, where they will be tried next Tuesday before Judge W. T. Daniel, of the superior court.

Sheriff L. D. Hudson and Deputy Sheriff T. J. Mallory, of Griffin, came to Atlanta last night to carry back the three alleged notorious yeggmen and train robbers, who, the local police believe, are responsible for the majority of the safe-cracking which took place around this city during last winter.

FORDHAM BOUND OVER UNDER BOND OF $100

When G. G. Fordham, an employee of the Fulton Bag and Cotton mills, washed his hands in a basin of water after having shaken hands with J. H. Whitaker, of 643 East Fair street, a union striker at the mills, the subtlety of the insinuation was too much for Whitaker. A fist fight ensued, and on Tuesday afternoon Acting Recorder Preston bound Fordham over on a charge of assault and battery. His bond was assessed at $100.

EVANS COUNTY BILL REPORTED FAVORABLY

Bill to Create Lieutenant Governor Is Also Favorably Reported.

Two bills of importance, which have already been passed in the house, were reported favorably by the senate committee on constitutional amendments yesterday afternoon—one creating the new county of Evans and the other creating the office of lieutenant governor for the state of Georgia.

On both bills the vote was reached only after long argument and was close. The lieutenant governor bill, introduced by Crawford Wheatley, was reported favorably by a vote of 6 to 5. Chairman Harrell at first voted against the bill, but finally refrained from voting on the measure in order to get it before the senate.

Minority Reports Expected.

For several ballots the vote on the Evans county proposition was 6 and 6. This tie was finally broken by two senators who had voted against the bill changing their positions in order to give the members of the senate a chance to express their opinions on the legislation. Both of these bills will probably be returned with minority reports.

The proposed county of Evans is to be cut from the counties of Tattnall and Bulloch, with Claxton as the county seat. The area will be 240 square miles, the population 9,000 and the property valuation about $2,000,000.

Representatives Turner and Nevil, of Bulloch, spoke before the committee in favor of the bill as well as Representative Tootle, of Tattnall. Dr. Wilkinson, a minister of Bulloch county; J. R. Miller, editor of The Statesboro News, and J. J. E. Anderson, representing the Evans county advocates, spoke for the bill. Solicitor General R. Lee Moore, of Statesboro; H. M. Jones and Hinton Booth, of Bulloch county, spoke against the bill. A delegation of fourteen men residing in that part of Bulloch county affected by the creation of the new county were present at the hearing.

Mr. Jones declared that neither he nor his people knew of the action being taken on his bill. Mr. Miller, during the heat of his argument, declared that if Mr. Jones knew nothing of the argument it was his own fault.

This bill will require a two-thirds vote of the senate to become enacted into law, the creation of new counties being constitutional amendments. Evans county, if passed, will be the one hundred and fifty-second county in the state.

Wheatley Speaks.

Crawford Wheatley spoke shortly for his lieutenant governor bill, declaring it to be a necessity in view of the fact that the law of Georgia now provides no fulfillment of the governor's office in case of his death between the adjournment of the legislature and the next election.

Representatives Fullbright, of Burke, and Slater, of Bryan, spoke for the bill. Judge Griffin, of Valdosta, also expressed himself to the committee as favoring the measure. As passed by the house this bill provides no remuneration for the office other than the per diem of $7 paid the president of the senate during the sessions of the legislature. Representative Fullbright declared that the salary should be at least $1,000 a year.

This bill, if it becomes a law, will abolish the office of president of the senate, the lieutenant governor presiding over that body. In case of the death of the governor the lieutenant governor will take his place.

WOMAN BOUND OVER FOR CONDUCTING A DISORDERLY HOUSE

Mrs. E. M. Henson, Mrs. Cora Appleton and Mrs. Ghittie Oglesby, all of 5 Castleberry street, were arraigned in the recorder's court yesterday for maintaining a disorderly house. Mrs. Henson stated to an officer that she was the proprietress. Several of the nieghbors made complaint against the occupants concerning their conduct for the last three weeks. Bullard and Shaw made the investigations which led to the arrest of the three women and H. C. Farnell, of East Point. R. F. Pittman, of 215 South Forsyth street, was the chief complainant. The Henson woman, who is well known to the police, was bound over under a $500 bond for conducting a disorerly establishment. Cora Appleton was given a fine and Ghittie Oglesby was put on probation because of her children. Farnell was dismissed.

One Experience Convinced Me of its Value

"One of our salesmen demonstrated the value of the Long Distance Telephone to us. He was at Huntsville, Ala., and upon his own responsibility put in Long Distance calls for fifteen merchants within a radius of several hundred miles.

"In less than one hour he had sold 2100 barrels of flour at a total cost to us of less than six dollars.

"Since then we have applied the Long Distance Bell Telephone to every feature of our business with most profitable results. The service is fine, the rates are reasonable and there is more satisfaction in one Long Distance Telephone talk than in half a dozen letters".

A LONE INSURGENT.

With the thunders dinning from Europe and the very planets themselves hitting the trail to the tall timbers The Macon (Ga.) News is on a desert isle "insurging" all by its lonesome.

It's all about the capital-removal issue.

Judge Nat E. Harris, from Bibb, the home of The News, and candidate for governor, has formally and finally declared that the capital removal is a dead issue so far as this campaign is concerned. He says he wants to "move Macon to the capital and not the capital to Macon."

The News declines to attend the obsequies.

The three representatives from Bibb in the house of representatives, recognizing the infelicity of projecting the issue into politics, and moved by other sensible motives, have resolved to withdraw the matter from the attention of the legislature.

Still, The News conducts the battle all by itself, as seen by an editorial reproduced elsewhere, issuing ultimatums, invading Germany, France and Russia, refusing to be comforted or consoled and declaring with its last gasp that capital-removal IS and evermore will be an issue.

The Constitution sympathizes with The News, but when it comes to authorities from Bibb, we must, perforce, and with all apologies to our agitated contemporary, accept the word of Judge Harris, under the conditions, rather than the excited ultimatum of The News.

Again, it seems to us that the three representatives from Bibb can't all be wrong. They are estimable gentlemen, each one. They must know the will of their constituents. They have no hunger for defying public sentiment. They know also that it takes a two-thirds vote of both houses to submit the question to the people. They are moved by civic as well as political wisdom in keeping a dynamited issue of this sort out of politics at this time.

Well, after all, what's the use? The News is having a whole lot of fun in getting off the reservation all by itself. The job of playing Atlas to the capital-removal plan, as against the distinguished candidate and the three representatives from Bibb, is a compensating joy.

ALAS, POOR POLITICS!

With no intentions at invidious distinctions or reflections, for they're all in the same boat, our heartfelt sympathies go out to the candidates in the campaign innumerable now rattling the stumps in this state—from United States senator on down to ratcatcher.

Why?

For the primitive reason that public attention is a bull on war news and a bear on politics.

Watch them grab the front page. They scan feverishly its every line, if that line comes from Europe, or is about Europe. They want to know if Germany has "handed one" to France, what France is doing to Germany, what England, Russia and Japan are doing.

Politics?

Yes, yes, surely. But it is not the headliner. You'll always get an interest in politics as long as men are human and love a fight, which is what politics happens to be. But when a bigger fight comes on the boards, with the destinies of the very map at stake, the political chorus must dig up a lively tune to get a reasonable crowd to go inside and see the big show.

Our condolences to all you gentlemen. It's Europe for the limelight, right now. Just the same, the election will be held, as per schedule, on August 19.

JUST REFRIGERATORS.

One of the big hardware dealers of Atlanta says that more refrigerators have been sold in Atlanta this season than in any similar period in the city's history. His firm started the summer with the customary number, but were compelled time and again to replenish its stock, and he looks to see a phenomenal record established by September 15.

The report is indicative of two things: The prosperity of Atlanta, and the awakening of all classes in Atlanta to the health and comfort involved in the humble refrigerator.

In the long run, the refrigerator is economy. It enables the family to buy perishable goods in larger lots, and that means saving. The offsetting cost for the ice will not overtake the original saving. That is not to cite the comfort. The family that has a refrigerator, has ice water at its beck and call. And ice water in summer is rapidly coming to be conceded a necessity, and not a luxury.

The refrigerator is also a baby-saver, principally because of the greater security it gives with regard to milk. You may take the utmost precaution in the source from which you obtain the milk you feed your infant or young children. But if you have no means of refrigerating it, you will lose most if not all of the advantage. Here alone a refrigerator is likely, in the course of just one summer, to far more than pay its cost.

HISTORIC MARKERS.

In a recent visit to Atlanta A. S. Goldsborough, of Baltimore, said that one fault with this section is that it fails to commemorate its great characters as it should do. It fails also to recognize the assets contained in its historic places, its topographical wonders and its scenery. He is right.

There has just passed, for instance, the semi-centenary of the battle of Atlanta. There should have been some celebration of the event, just as there should be around this city markers commemorating the critical battles.

There is Stone Mountain, a world-wonder. Even as it is, visitors to Atlanta go religiously to see the greatest pile of stone on the globe. If it were more advertised, and if it were made conspicuous by being transformed into a Battle Abbey, it would attract several times as many visitors.

And what more appropriate memorial to the "lost cause?" There it is forever to look out over the centuries with its silent but mighty tale of an epochal conflict.

It is gratifying to know that the patriotic and civic societies of the south, led by the United Daughters of the Confederacy, are launching a movement to materialize this wonderful idea. Surely, no war and no people could have a memorial so unique and so stupendous.

CONCENTRATED ADMINISTRATION.

Debating on the biennial sessions bill recently one of the state senators expressed the opinion that the senate alone should transact Georgia's legislative business. "The house is too unwieldy for quick action," said the senator, "it should be abolished, and all business intrusted to the senate."

While it would be rash to hazard a prophecy, it is possible that the years to come will show that the senator was, in the principle involved, only a few years ahead of his time. The sounder political thought of the day is rapidly converging to the need of concentration in government. While the affairs of Georgia may never be directed by a senate, it is not out of reason to surmise that administration will be by a much smaller body than now.

The commission idea for states was advanced a few weeks ago in Louisiana. If commission government for cities, why not for states? It may not be adaptable to the state, but discussion of the subject will have a good effect in calling attention to the advantage of concentration.

This is, of course, indulging in speculation. But, considering the unmistakable trend in the public mind, the speculation is not as abstract or far-off as might normally be considered.

DEADBEATING THE DOCTORS.

It is reported that the physicians of Fulton county are going to organize a sort of financial information bureau, the object of which is to protect its members from deadbeats.

Probably the doctor is the most imposed upon follower of the professions. The lawyer knows how to reach his debtors and usually does so. The doctor is generally the last of the creditors to be paid, and ethics, expediency, sympathy and a lot of other motives deter him from vigorously pressing suit. It is true that some may be extortionate, just as in other occupations, taking "all the traffic will bear." But the majority are considerate, and conform their charges to the patient's purse.

It need not be feared that the organization of this medical credit clearing house will lead to any inhumanity or unpleasantness. There was a physician "shot up" in Illinois the other day by a non-paying patient whom he refused to attend. Such instances are rare. The average doctor answers a call, even though he does not expect to be paid, or immediately puts the inquirer in the way of finding a substitute.

But it is simple justice that some way should be found to protect these devoted, hard-working men from imposition and from the too-prevailing impression that the doctor can live on glory. There is little danger that in the process anyone will suffer.

JUST from GEORGIA

By FRANK L. STANTON

"Gone to the Battle."

I.

"Gone to the battle" . . .
The fields they tilled are bare,
And not one bird is singing in the thunder-riven air;
The sun lost in shadows, and not a star to light
The dreamless homes left lonely to the terror of the Night.

II.

"Gone to the battle" . . . And Love no more shall know
Footsteps in the twilight where the sweet home-roses grow.
Tenantless his dwelling, or haunted by a dream
Of hills and valleys reddened, where battle-fires gleam.

III.

"Gone to the battle"—the lives Love cherished so;
It was the call of country; and the women let them go.
For war the wide-world over the minds of men will sway:
It has been since Earth's first morning, and will be till Earth's last day.

* * * * *

Queer Country Capers.

There are queer "happenings" in "Pleasant Valley"—just as in the Billville "moonshine" belt. In the Kansas City Star is this one:

"Uncle Si Lowe is suffering from a wry neck. Since the weather has been so very warm Uncle Si has been sleeping with his bald head pillowed in an open window. The other night his swarthy hired hand tarried o'er long at the distillery and on returning home attempted to get in the house without arousing anyone. Mounting the porch, he felt along the front of the house for the door knob. At last his hand lighted on Uncle Si's bald head, which he twisted vigorously in a futile attempt to let himself in. At about the second twist Uncle Si arose and let him in on more secrets about himself than he cared to listen to."

* * * * *

The Home Fight.

The thunder's heard from 'crost the foam,
But we ain't in the thunder's way;
For they ain't no fightin' here at home,
But the fight for the harvest day.

And for that we'll fight
Both high an' low,
Till the home-lights fall
On the winter's snow.

For grass won't say that cotton's king,
Nor let the tollers pass,
So, it's "March ye, men, from mount and glen,
To the fight with the soldier-grass."

And we'll fight him high,
And we'll lay him low.
Till the home-lights shine
O'er the winter's snow.

The High Cost of Literature.

"It cost me the price of four bales of cotton and a year's hard work in the fields under the br'illin' sun, to get my new book on the market," says the poet of the Adams Enterprise, "and if I don't get my money back right soon I'm mightily afeared I'll have to abandon Literature from now on. People that signed up to take it are now workin' the war scare on me, an' otherwise gettin' out of it the best way they can, and yet, from cover to cover they ain't a harm's word in the book. If Literature is a-dyin', I don't want to take and die with it."

* * * * *

He's Dead Right.

Another poet "reckons" why is war, in this fashion:

"Just why the nations are a-fightin'
Is more'n I know, at this writin'.
I reckon—since no love can win 'em—
They fight because the devil's in 'em."

* * * * *

Even When Joy Comes.

There's trouble even when Joy is around;
for when the rosy-cheeked rascal claps his hands, or rattles off a jig-tune on that coaxing fiddle of his he wants us to dance until the weary stars creep under the cloud-cover and go to sleep.

* * * * *

Dining on Dreams.

We have been told that "one can't breakfast on a love song," but the Bentztown Bard thinks differently:

"A little light for breakfast,
A little song for tea;
A little dream for dinner—
And that's enough for me.
A little hymn at twilight,
A little prayer of rest,
And one star through the skylight
When I go down the West."

* * * * *

Waiting on His Dream.

"What's he a-doin' of now?"
"Still waitin' for good times."
"Why, the times are good as can be?"
"I know, but not like them he seen in his dream, when the heavens 'll rain gold, an' there's nobody but him to grab it."

A Harvest Note.

Sing a song of harvest—
Fleecy fields of white;
In the years' long battle
The toiler wins the fight.

Righteous Won Out, Anyhow.

"I prayed fer de rain ter fall an' droun de wicked man," said the sable philosopher, "an' please God, it washed my own house fum de face er de yeth! The Emperor of Sorrows.

(From The New York Sun.)

In all the flash and play of tragedy so relentlessly about the House of Hapsburg, sympathy goes out to those who suffer quickly and are then removed from all possibility of further pain. But there is haunting pathos in the figure of the solitary old man, bereft like a stricken tree of every branch, bare to a fate that pursues his nearest but mercilessly leaves him to the desolation of life without them.

Macon News Says Corpse Is "Still a Live Issue"

(From The Macon News.)

The Atlanta newspapers are gloating just a bit too soon over the capital removal issue.

The Constitution fairly whoops for joy over the delusion that this is an end of the capital removal campaign. "No longer an issue," mistakenly shouts The Constitution, concluding with this, "The state is to be congratulated that a topic so fraught with disagreeable possibilities is not to be made the football of politics."

In having the bill tabled the Bibb delegation did not act in accordance with either the knowledge or desires of the people of Macon.

The present Bibb delegation to the legislature neither has the authority nor the power to terminate the campaign for the ultimate removal of the capital to the geographical center of the state.

For that matter, it is an issue of such tremendous importance to the whole state, involving millions of people and scores of counties, as well as the seventy thousand citizens of Bibb and the city of Macon, that this city itself cannot dispose of it. No city can end the issue—not even Atlanta.

Certainly no one man, nor set of men, can call a halt to the capital removal project.

It is an enterprise in which too many people and too many counties are interested and affected.

The News regrets that the capital removal issue interferes with the candidacy of Judge Nat E. Harris for governor, and we are even more grieved that Judge Harris should be against the issue. However, that is his sincere position, taken of old. When in the legislature he voiced his disapprobation of any proposal to locate the capital in any city other than Atlanta.

However, the moving of the capital to that part of the state where it rightfully belongs is a matter of indefinitely more concern to the people of more than two-thirds of the state than the election or ambition of any citizen, however distinguished and esteemed he may be. Neither individual advantage nor local pride and gratification should be permitted for an instant to hamper the campaign for the submission to the people of the state of the question as to the location of their capital.

It takes a two-thirds vote of the general assembly to send this question to the people for their consideration at the polls. A two-thirds vote is sufficient to override any governor's veto. Therefore, it really does not matter whether a governor, or a candidate for governor, is for or against the capital issue. It is a matter beyond his control.

The injection of the capital removal issue into the present campaign was done by malice aforethought by some of those who are against Judge Harris with the intent of embarrassing him. In replying to the charges brought against him in connection with the matter, he defined his position, declaring that Macon would rather move to the capital than bring the capital to Macon.

With due respect to Judge Harris, The News is obliged to differ with him as to this and to again insist that it is a matter over which individuals may disagree, but which they of themselves cannot control.

The News is pleased to inform the Atlanta newspapers, and to reassure the thousands of Georgia citizens who want the capital in Macon, where it logically belongs, that the capital removal campaign is still an issue and is a long ways from being defunct. It is an issue that will yet triumph, despite politicians and politics.

Constitution's Correct Gauge of Responsibility of Citizenship

(From The Quitman Free Press.)

The Atlanta Constitution had in a recent issue an editorial which will go down in history. It rings the bell in every paragraph and in short space tells the story of Atlanta's supremacy over other southern cities. Impregnated with the sentiments set forth in this editorial any community will grow, will remain as they are or in time decay. After having enumerated the great number of public enterprises calling for thousands and even millions of dollars, put over by the people of Atlanta in the past twelve months, winding up with two million dollar Methodist university, the editorial says:

"Can any other southern city, any American city, show an approximate record?

"What is the secret here?

"The getting by giving habit. The interpretation of civic interest and obligation, the realization that when a man gives ten cents or a million dollars he is helping to build Atlanta and hence help himself while helping others.

"The Constitution doubts if in American history there has ever been exhibited such an incarnation of the proprietary instinct of a city felt by its citizens.

"The man in the street feels an ownership, a pride of ownership in Atlanta.

"The capitalist feels it.

"The ditch digger feels it.

"He contributes to every enterprise that enriches Atlanta because he knows that after, not many, but a few days his bread cast on the water will come back to him in tangible form."

What do you people of Brooks county say to this: are there many in Brooks county "bankrupt in intuition and in civic spirit?" We fear there are many, but feel sure they are growing less each month. There are men in Atlanta who give five hundred dollars a year to public enterprises, to commercial organization work, to colleges, etc., who are less able by thousands of dollars than many citizens of Brooks county who are giving less than fifty dollars a year and some who are not giving anything at all. Will Quitman grow? Can Brooks county develop so long as these conditions exist?

It is true that the "man on the street" feels an interest in Atlanta, and a pride and responsibility in the growth of the city. Therefore Atlanta has swept past its sister cities in the race of progress. It is this spirit that has helped to make Atlanta have eighteen million dollars a week of bank clearings as against only three to four million a week in Birmingham.

What about the people of Quitman and Brooks county? Does the "man on the street" and the "farmer in the field" feel a personal responsibility as regards the growth and development of the town and county. If not, then why not?

There are men in every community who are stumbling blocks to the progress of the town and county. They are so regarded by their fellow citizens and will so go down on the pages of the history of their community. In almost any community you can hear the remark "a few funerals will do this place worlds of good." Is there a man living who wants to be so regarded? Is there a man who has ever lived who wants to hand to his children such a legacy as this regarding the father?

It is well enough to boost, but at times it is a good idea to "shake the bag" and see "what is what"—the issues are being closely drawn in Brooks at the present time. Those who are in the way of progress will be brushed aside and forgotten, save to be remembered as hindrances to the future prosperity of the county. The man in any community who simply lives for himself, and who does not do his part, is sowing seed that will reap for him and his family a public opinion that many would give thousands to have wiped out!

SLATON ENTHUSIASM GROWING THROUGHOUT ENTIRE STATE

With every day now, it appears more and more evident to those who are watching Governor Slaton's campaign throughout the state that he is going to be a winner. The enthusiasm which was apparent at the Forsyth theater meeting Monday night was merely a token of the enthusiasm which his friends are arousing for him in other sections. Following are extracts from a few letters received yesterday indicating how his campaign is prospering:

J. S. Montgomery, Thomasville: "It is generally conceded that Slaton will carry Thomas county."

R. E. Denny, attorney, Rome: "Slaton's interests in Floyd are well in hand and I now think he can safely count on the county giving a handsome majority over all opposition."

George M. Wing, Roswell: "You are gaining fast in this district. Also with the country people, from what I can learn."

Whit Whitman, Tallapoosa: "Things are looking better every day out this way."

Sam P. Maddox, Dalton: "I believe the race in this county (Whitfield) is between Slaton and Hardwick and I feel reasonably certain Slaton will carry the county."

Watson Parish, Spread: "Slaton will get a majority of the votes cast in this (Jefferson) county."

Dr. C. S. Smith, Cotton: "Slaton gaining ground here (Mitchell county) every day. He is a sure winner."

John F. Flournoy, Columbus: "I feel as most of my friends do that Muscogee county will vote very largely for Slaton."

SUBSTANTIAL HARDMAN CLUB IS ORGANIZED AT CUTHBERT

News has been received at the Atlanta headquarters of Dr. L. G. Hardman, candidate for governor, that a substantial club has been organized for his support at Leesburg.

Goode Price is the president of this club and D. D. Hall is secretary.

New names are being added to the list every day for the organization of Dr. Hardman's Fulton club. This organization is expected to be perfected within the next week.

WARD MEETINGS FOR HARRIS WILL BEGIN TOMORROW NIGHT

There will be a meeting Thursday night by the friends of Judge Nat Harris at the corner of Hemphill avenue and West Tenth street in Chastain's hall. There will be a number of speeches and everybody is invited. At all of Judge Harris' meetings the ladies are invited.

There will be two meetings Friday night. One will be at Red Men's hall, corner Gordon street and Lucile avenue, at 8 o'clock. Citizens of the Battle Hill district and Seventh ward friends of Judge Harris will hear some speeches there in his behalf. The same night at 8 o'clock friends of Judge Harris in the Fifth ward will hold a meeting at 809 Marietta street, one block beyond Bellwood avenue, opposite the postoffice, in Shirley's old furniture store.

St. Elmo Massengale, chairman of the Fulton County Harris club, and Ivan E. Allen, secretary, were both very busy Tuesday arranging plans for the meetings and in making arrangements for Judge Harris' speech here on Wednesday night, August 12. On that night Judge Harris will speak at the Forsyth theater.

RANDOLPH ANDERSON WILL ATTEND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DINNER

Hon. Randolph Anderson, candidate for governor, will speak at Fairburn this afternoon and tonight will attend the banquet of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce at Druid Hills club, where he will be one of the speakers.

Mr. Anderson is just about the busiest man in the state of Georgia at the present time. His mornings are taken up in the senate, his afternoons are usually spent out of the city at some nearby town where he speaks, but he is invariably on the job at the senate the following morning. He has displayed a capacity for hard work which is remarkable.

After the senate adjourns he will devote practically all of his time to speaking.

Walter Mangum, assistant campaign manager, stated yesterday:

"Every report we receive is encouraging. South Georgia is solid for us and we are going to carry a majority of the counties in north Georgia.

"Fulton county will go for Anderson, two for one."

BROWN HEADQUARTERS REPORT A RECORD-BREAKING DAY

The following statement was given out from Brown headquarters:

If Monday was a record day in visitors and letters, today went far beyond it. Nearly five hundred letters is the record for Tuesday and our reception room was full all the day, twenty-five counties being represented.

"We are getting the most encouraging news from every section of the state. Our friends are thoroughly aroused over the issue that has been made against Governor Brown in his opposition to the organization of negroes of the farm into unions; and the country people thoroughly alive to the gravity of a situation which makes possible hordes of idle negroes during strike periods on the farms throughout the country, are flocking to Governor Brown for protection of home as well as crops.

"This is the situation in Georgia and as fast as the impression travels, intelligent voters are coming to Governor Brown's support.

"We are having many calls for Mr. Dorsey's speech and these are being supplied as fast as they come from the press.

"We have every reason to believe that Governor Brown's campaign is in as good condition as his most sanguine friends could desire."

SPEECH IN ATLANTA AT EARLY DATE IS PLANNED BY JOHN R. COOPER

Macon, Ga., August 4.—(Special.)—Colonel John R. Cooper, candidate for the senatorial short term, is spending this week in south Georgia, but next week he will again invade north Georgia. If Colonel Cooper is able to make proper arrangements, he plans to address the voters of Atlanta next Friday night. His brother is in charge of the arrangements and a definite announcement with reference to the Atlanta address will be made in a day or two.

Saturday of this week Colonel Cooper will speak at Calhoun, in Dalton county.

WILLACOOCHEE MEN FIGHTING FOR DOUGLAS COUNTY SEAT IN HOUSE

Willacoochee, Ga., August 4.—(Special.)—With the announcement today of Hon. J. M. Roberts for representative against the incumbent, Hon. C. E. Stewart, local politics in Coffee county has taken on renewed life.

Until a few days ago, Mr. Stewart was opposed by Hon. Z. W. Kirkland, who retired from the race on account of the illness of his wife.

As July the 31 was the last day to qualify, the race now lies between these two candidates, both citizens of Willacoochee, and it bids fair to be unusually interesting.

CANDIDATES EVANS AND VINSON HAVING HOT TILT IN TENTH

Sandersville, Ga., August 4.—(Special.)—Tenth district politics have been unusually quiet along all lines until now, but from this time until the results of the primary have been declared it may be said for a certainty that there will be something doing.

This applies just now in particular to the congressional contest, in which four candidates have entered. The leading economic plank advocated by Candidate A. W. Evans is one favoring the establishment of land banks and a system of rural credits. This new system of farm finance was attacked in some quarters and reports reached Mr. Evans that Candidate Carl Vinson had declared in public speeches that it was unconstitutional and impractical. Mr. Evans, after that, sailed into Mr. Vinson pretty lively. The latter in a two-column card last week denounced his reported opposition to land banks and rural credits as a malicious and willful distortion of the facts, as he had at no time opposed the plan.

It was up to Mr. Evans to show his authority and all tenth district papers will carry this week affidavits of a number of leading citizens of Jefferson and Wilkinson counties stating under oath that Vinson had ridiculed the land banks and rural credits features of Evans' platform, declaring in public speeches that it was unconstitutional and impractical. Mr. Vinson's reply is being awaited with interest.

NAT E. HARRIS CLUB FORMED AT MEETING HELD IN COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ga., August 4.—(Special.)—A Muscogee county Nat E. Harris club was organized at a meeting here Monday night at the courthouse.

The officers elected were: President, J. C. Alexander; vice presidents, Colonel W. S. Shepherd, Charles W. Mizell, George M. Craig and J. S. Waterman; secretary, Frank D. Foley.

SENATOR HOKE SMITH MAKES REPLIES TO CHARGES FROM OPPOSITION CAMP

Washington, D. C., August 4.—(Special.)—Senator Hoke Smith today issued a statement replying to various published charges against him which have recently been called to his attention.

Senator Smith opens his card by declaring that he had hoped to be able to spend a few days this week in Georgia, but that press of business in Washington had prevented him from doing so. He declares that he hopes to make a flying trip to Georgia before the primary.

In referring to the charge that he did not oppose the appointment of the negro Terrell, as judge in Washington, Senator Smith says in part:

"In point of fact the nomination of this negro was aggressively fought. Senator Vardaman, of Mississippi; Senator Smith, of South Carolina, and I made each several speeches against his confirmation.

"The facts connected with the fight on Terrell were brought by me to the attention of the senate in open session on July 23, 1914. They were then spread upon the public record of the senate."

The Immigration Bill.

Replying to the charge that he made no effort to pass the Burnett immigration bill, Senator Smith shows in detail the work he did in caucus for the measure and adds:

"I voted for a similar bill in last congress, and when it was vetoed by the president I voted to pass it over his veto. I have supported it at every opportunity, and will continue to support it until it is passed."

Referring to the parcel post, Senator Smith says in part:

"The charge has been made that I sought to injure the parcel post. The parcel post has had no more earnest friend in the senate than I have been. From the time the house bill providing for a flat rate of 12 cents per pound parcel post reached the committee on postoffices and post roads of the senate, I have been seeking to help improve the system and especially to lower the rates for the short distances, which was the service of real benefit to the farmers.

"I, with Senator Bourne, was the most active advocate of cutting the country into zones and giving low rates to the short distances.

Loans on Farm Lands.

"It has been charged that we have done nothing to enable the farmers to borrow money more easily. We provided in the currency bill that the notes of farmers due six months from date could be used in reserve banks. This will help the farmers borrow money to raise their crops. We provided that national banks, except where they were located in reserve cities, could loan on farm lands.

"This legislation grew out of a bill which I introduced in the senate.

Smith-Lever Bill.

"Even the work that I have done in passing the Smith-Lever farm demonstration or cotton bill, is made the subject of slander.

"I am charged with seeking to obtain the credit for this bill in Georgia, while, by a letter of mine, I concede the credit to Senator Smith, of South Carolina, in South Carolina.

"I introduced the original bill in the senate one day, and Congressman Lever introduced it the next day in the house. The final bill which passed was the work of both Congressman Lever, myself, officials of the department of agriculture and the executive committee of the state colleges of agriculture.

"There is another bill which attacks the New York cotton exchange. The original of this bill was introduced by Senator Smith, of South Carolina, and passed the senate with certain amendments which I presented. It passed the house by substitute. The bill has been in conference and in the absence of Senator Smith, of South Carolina, I have had charge of the bill in the senate as chairman of the committee of conferees.

"There are other slanders which I learn are being circulated, and there are, no doubt, many I have not heard. Judging by the past, I caution my friends to expect all sorts of falsehoods from now on. I trust the fair-minded voters of Georgia to repudiate them.

(Signed) "HOKE SMITH."

VOTERS OF CARROLL HEAR HUGH DORSEY

Solicitor Reviews Record of Hoke Smith Both as Governor and as United States Senator.

Carrollton, Ga., August 4.—(Special.) Solicitor Hugh Dorsey addressed the voters of Carroll county at the courthouse here this morning at 11 o'clock. About 1,500 people were present to hear him, and much interest was manifested in his advocacy of Joe Brown for the senate and his attack on Senator Hoke Smith.

Mr. Dorsey spoke at length on Senator Smith's record and dealt with it from the time Senator Smith entered Cleveland's cabinet to the present. He laid special stress on the platform of Smith when he ran for governor in 1906 and discussed his record since he had been in the senate. He spoke emphatically against Smith's position on the Panama canal tolls and expressed himself on the appointment of negroes to office in the District of Columbia. Mr. Dorsey's speech was well received.

The solicitor entered into a detailed comparison between Joseph M. Brown and Hoke Smith, first as men, and second as public servants. He referred to the "pompous and imposing" appearance of the present senator.

"Divest him of the glamor and pomp and ceremony which he throws about himself, which dazzles the eyes of a great many people and misleads them, and you can then size up the real man and see how little he has to him, after all," he declared.

He discussed quite a number of the important issues of the past three gubernatorial terms and declared that Hoke Smith had accomplished absolutely nothing worth while, but, on the other hand, had fallen flat on practically every one of his "pre-election obligations," and had merely adopted the policy throughout his career of "replacing the broken promises of yesterday with a bigger promise today."

Failed to Stop Free Passes.

He declared that Hoke Smith had been swept into office on the wave of a popular sentiment against railroads, because of his port rate promises, but had failed in his promise to obtain lower port rates in his first term and had then deserted this cause completely when elected the second time. He declared Smith had promised to abolish free passes if elected and then had failed to get it through the legislature, the abolition of free passes being afterwards accomplished by the railroad commission independent of Hoke Smith, though the latter claimed all the credit for it.

Mr. Dorsey also asserted that Smith had sought to strangle the present county-unit system, "the boon of the small counties and the idea upon which the very constitution of the United States is founded in making the states equal in political powers in national elections."

Among the other charges which Solicitor Dorsey made while on the governorship record were the so-called steam-roller tactics which he said the Hoke Smith convention had used to bottle up all opposition to Hoke, denying his opponents the right of even naming their candidates in the convention; the pardon record of Governor Smith in freeing a number of murderers whom Governor Brown had previously investigated and refused to pardon; the record of Hoke Smith in connection with the convict legislation of 1908, the governor having admitted in his message to the legislature that he didn't know how to solve the problem, afterwards taking the ideas of several legislators and embodying them in a special message and then claiming all credit for the new convict law, in spite of his confession of ignorance on the subject in the first place.

Mr. Dorsey criticised severely Hoke Smith for "appropriating the senatorship to himself in 1911, without giving the people of Georgia an opportunity to vote on it." He also accused Smith of deserting the cause of the people and throwing overboard his "pre-election promise" in not remaining in Georgia in 1911 and forcing his "port rate" reform.

"Flopped on Canal Tolls."

Turning then to Hoke Smith's senate record, Mr. Dorsey took up one by one the claims of Smith and his partisans as to the senator's achievements in the cotton futures bill, the farm demonstration bill, the market bureau, the parcel post, the currency bill, rural credits and canal tolls, claiming that the facts had been greatly misrepresented by Hoke Smith and that he had in reality accomplished practically nothing.

He accused Hoke Smith of "flopping" on the canal tolls question, and read from his speeches of 1912 and 1914, as printed in the Congressional Record, to show that the senator had reversed himself.

He also read from the Congressional Record Senator Smith's amendments to the cotton futures bill, which Senators Smoot and Bristow had attacked as "legalizing cotton pools," forcing the senate to reconsider and reject the amendments as submitted by Smith. Mr. Dorsey read from the Congressional Record Smith's attempts to amend the canal tolls measure, saying Smith had "backed down as soon as the guns of Smoot and other republican senators had been leveled on him, sneaking out the same hole as he had tried to sneak in."

S. J. Cowan Speaks.

Conyers, Ga., August 4.—(Special.)—S. J. Cowan spoke to a large and enthusiastic crowd here this morning at 10 o'clock in the interest of the candidacy of Joseph M. Brown for the United States senate. The audience filled the courthouse. The speaker scored Senator Smith's record.

JOE HOLMES DIES AFTER SWALLOWING DOSE OF POISON

Macon, Ga., August 4.—Joe Holmes, aged forty-one, a member of one of the most prominent Monroe county families, died at Culloden this morning at six o'clock from the effects of swallowing carbolic acid. Holmes was ill Monday morning and in the afternoon, when his wife went to his room, she found him lying prone on the floor and in an unconscious condition. He died without regaining consciousness. He left no note to family or friends.

Relatives say that Holmes swallowed the poison by mistake. Half a dozen relatives from Macon have gone to Culloden to attend the funeral. Holmes' father, J. O. Holmes, is proprietor of the Culloden hotel and president of the Merchants and Planters' bank there.

Besides his father and widow, who is the daughter of W. H. Smith, Sr., of Bibb county, Holmes is survived by five brothers, W. T., R. H., C. A., Clifford and Grady Holmes, all prominent Monroe county farmers. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. J. T. Reddick and Miss Katherine Holmes, both of Culloden.

END IS DRAWING NEAR; HOUSE PUTS ON SPEED

Many Appropriation Bills Passed—Changes Are Made in Atlanta Charter.

Finding that the time was getting short for the passage of a number of important bills, as the legislature adjourns sine die August 12, the house Tuesday morning adopted a resolution changing the hour for meeting to 9 instead of 10 o'clock. An effort was made to hold afternoon sessions but this was voted down.

Only two new bills were introduced in the house Tuesday, showing that it is now getting too late for the consideration of any new business.

The house began the consideration of appropriation bills and passed the following:

To appropriate $43,000 for a deficiency in the pension department.

To appropriate $3,504 for a military deficiency caused by the riots in Augusta in 1912.

To appropriate $60 to pay the pension to Mrs. Eliza Muncey, of Lumpkin county. Mrs. Muncey is a confederate veteran's widow and her pension was not paid because her application papers were lost.

For Contingent Expenses.

To appropriate $2,620 for contingent expenses in the department of commerce and labor.

To appropriate $7,500 for the chemical department of the agricultural department, that amount being the annual appropriation which was left off the finance sheet last year.

The house voted against a bill to pay $500 as a premium on the state treasurer's bond. The bill came very near passing and was only killed by several members changing their votes after the roll call. It was stated in the house that the treasurer's salary was $2,000 a year and it afterwards became known that he received an additional salary of $2,500 a year as state bank examiner.

Among the local bills passed by the house was one amending the charter of Atlanta. The bill came from the city council and was amended by the house committee. The bill as amended provided as follows:

To allow the city to oil paved streets when three fourths of the abutting property owners petitioned for the same.

To allow the city council to elect a board chairman when the board failed to do so, provided that one third of the board members so petitioned and two thirds of the council voted to elect.

Consulting City Engineer.

To create the office of consulting city engineer.

To allow council to fix salaries during the year prior to the election of officials.

The bill as passed struck out entirely two provisions that council had voted for, one was to allow the city to condemn pavements, and the other was to give council the authority to fix building lines.

The statement made in Tuesday's Constitution that the pure beer bill had gone to the head of the calendar was a typographical error and should have been to the heel of the calendar. Mr. Wohlwender had the bill placed on the calendar after it had been reported adversely by the committee on temperance. There is no likelihood of the bill coming up for passage at this session.

Local Bills Passed.

The following local bills were passed by the house:

To establish a system of public schools in the town of Smyrna, Cobb county.

To amend the charter of the city of Atlanta, Fulton county.

To amend the charter of the city of Eatonton, Putnam county.

To create a county board for Pulaski county.

To authorize the town of Ochlocknee to issue $10,000 of water works bonds.

To raise the salary of bailiffs from $100 to $125 per month in counties in which there are cities of more than 125,000 population.

To extend the limits of the city of Atlanta by taking in a small tract near Ponce de Leon Park.

To establish the city court of Boston, Thomas county.

To provide that the costs in civil cases in the municipal court of Atlanta involving less than $100 shall be the same as in justice court cases, and to reduce the deposit fee from $2 to $1.

HOPGOOD ADMITS GUILT ON CHARGE OF BIGAMY

S. J. Hopgood, a young farmer who lives near Brooks Station, admitted to Judge Preston in recorder's court Tuesday morning that he was guilty of the charge of bigamy, but placed the blame of his second marriage on his second wife, declaring that she had made him wed her, knowing that he had a living wife. His testimony in this respect was borne out by Mrs. Lulu Tullander, of 71 King street, but Hopgood was bound over under the charge of bigamy under bond of $500. Mrs. Hopgood, nee Miss Nellie Brown, of Atlanta, who was married to Hopgood last April and who had brought charges of bigamy against her husband, told the acting recorder that she never until after she was married learned that her husband already had a wife.

BAUGH'S LOVE SONG COSTS HIM JUST $100

For crooning, "Won't You Call Me Sweetheart?" M. W. Baugh, 25 years old, was fined $100 and costs in the recorder's court yesterday. Baugh was returning to his home, 188 Courtland street, about 11:30 o'clock, Monday night. He testified that he had remained long enough at his club to acquire an urgent feeling of exuberent cordiality. The extreme loneliness of the unpeopled street gave him an impulsive desire to see this attitude mirrored in the countenance of another. He admitted addressing a comely girl on Whitehall viaduct concerning her disposition toward him and persistently suing to become her sweetheart.

Considering that the law recognized no sentimentality, Judge Preston fined Baugh without comment.

Knights of Columbus.

St. Paul, Minn., August 4.—With delegates present from every part of the United States and several other countries, the annual convention of the Knights of Columbus opened here today and will continue until Thursday night. Officers will be elected and the 1915 meeting place selected Thursday.

OFFICE OF OBEAR IS ABOLISHED BY SENATE

Miller's Quartermaster General Bill Is Passed by 25 to 12.

By a vote of 25 to 12 the senate yesterday morning abolished the office of quartermaster general, now held by Quartermaster General W. G. Obear, as a part of the organized militia of the state of Georgia. This bill was introduced by Senator B. S. Miller, of the twenty-fourth. The resolution of Senator Grant Perry, referring the question to the governor of the state for a determination of the quartermaster's rank, was lost.

The following is the vote on Senator Miller's substitute abolishing the office:

Ayes: Brown, Bulloch, Burtz, Chennault, Ford, Hixon, Hule, Jones, S. E. Jones, W. W., Kea, Longino, McGregor, McNeil, Miller, Olliff, Parrish, Pope, Rushin, Searcy, Smith, Sweat, Tarver, Taylor, Turner and Watts—25.

Nays: Allen, Bush, Dickey, Harrell, Irwin, Johnson, Kelly, Moore, Perry, Peyton, Richardson, and Tyson—12.

During the debate on the bill Tuesday Senator Perry continued his argument against Senator Miller's bill and favoring his own resolution. Senator McGregor, chairman of the military committee which reported the Miller bill favorably, spoke for twenty minutes for the passage of the measure, declaring the maintenance of General Obear's office to be a wasteful expenditure of money.

Now Goes to House.

This legislation, which has consumed much time in the senate, will now go to the house for consideration.

The bill of Senator Bush, revising the election laws of the state so as to establish the Australian ballot system in Georgia, was passed by a vote of 28 to 1, Senator Tarver raising the only dissenting voice.

The senate disagreed to the adverse report of the general judiciary committee, requiring the furnishing of free sanitary drinking cups upon all passenger cars. The motion to disagree was made by Senator Tarver, the author of the bill, and carried by a vote of 21 to 9. The bill will now take its place on the calendar. Senators Tarver, McNeil and Irwin spoke in favor of disagreeing to the report while Senator Allen insisted that the senate stand by the report of its committee.

Bills Passed by Senate.

The following bills were passed:

By Senator McNeil, of the 22nd—To exempt from taxation the endowment fund of colleges not invested in real estate.

By Senator Bush of the 8th—To revise the election laws of state by instituting the Australian ballot system.

By Mr. Shippe, of Pulaski—To give Bleckley and Wheeler county representation.

The Real War

"We wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world."

---Ephesians VI: 12.

Intelligence says—Protect children.

Greed prompts—Make money. Cloak your covetousness by pointing to the widow's need. Pleading, "Let the little ones help their mothers," steal their childhood away.

Have you not read?

GOD HAS SAID:

"Rob not the poor because he is poor—

"The Lord will plead their cause, and spoil the soul of those that spoileth them."

Wisdom suggests—In your complex age, more and more will arise questions between employer and employee. Provide a way that will make both do justice. Experience shows that where honest men look dispassionately at both sides of a question with a desire to do right, they reach an agreement.

BUT AVARICE SAYS—I WILL DO WHAT I CHOOSE. IF YOU DON'T WANT MY TERMS, GET OUT.

Right and wrong are at war today in Georgia.

Fight you for or against the rulers of darkness?

Men are trying to save little children.

Make the Sheppard Bill the law of our State.

Monday, the Committee on Commerce and Labor of the Senate considered it. Two members, SENATORS CONVERSE AND LONGINO, were absent. Of the five present, SENATORS PERRY AND TURNER voted against a favorable recommendation. SENATORS WATTS AND KEA voted in favor of it. SENATOR FORD, the Chairman of the Committee, broke the tie, voting in favor of the bill, thus bringing it to the Senate with a favorable report.

What will the Senate of Georgia do for her children?

MEN ARE STRIVING TO END THE STRIFE BETWEEN CAPITAL AND LABOR.

The Olive Substitute now pending before the Senate and the House has been modeled upon the Canadian law, which has demonstrated its success by satisfactorily ending one hundred and five strikes out of the one hundred and twenty-two brought before it.

This law provides thirty days for a cooling time.

Within this space, neither side makes a move.

Then comes the Board. One member is chosen by the worker, the other by the employer; the two choose the third or umpire, if they can agree; if not, the Commissioner of Labor appoints, and the board of three proceeds.

Make this the law of Georgia.

If you wish a practical demonstration of the immediate and pressing need of the Sheppard Bill to protect the children of our state, go look at the boys and girls in any mill settlement in the State.

And a concrete illustration of the need for both it and for the Olive Substitute is the strike now on at the Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills in our city.

Go out and take a look.

CRACKERS TACKLE MOOSEMEN TODAY

Play Five Games in Chattanooga—Double-Header on Saturday—Williams Will Twirl the Opener.

Manager Billy Smith and his slipping Crackers slip over to Chattanooga today to tackle the slipping Lookouts in a five-game series. Which team will continue to slip at the conclusion of the series?

The Lookouts have been the Crackers' biggest jinxes all season. We have engaged them in eighteen battles thus far, and have been able to win the verdict in but two, while three were tied.

We have yet to win our first game from the men of McCormick in Chattanooga. This is our third and last visit there. On previous visits we lost three games and tied one the first time and lost all three the second time.

Mutt Williams, who won the first game that the Crackers were able to win from the Lookouts, will probably be Manager Smith's selection in the opening game of the series today, with Joe Dunn catching. If the big right-hander is in form he'll at least give the men of McCormick a fierce battle.

In the eighteen games the Crackers have tallied 55 runs to 83 for the Mooses, made 139 hits to 170 for the Mooses and 32 errors to 33 for the Mooses. Saturday the teams will play a double-header.

Behr and Pell Meet Church and Mathey for Right to Play Champions

Chicago, August 4.—Karl Behr and Theodore R. Pell, of New York, eastern champions, and George M. Church and Dean Mathey, of Princeton university, western titleholders, will meet tomorrow at Onwentsia club courts, Lake Forest, to decide which team shall challenge Maurice E. McLoughlin and Thomas C. Bundy, of San Francisco, for the American doubles tennis championship.

Behr and Pell won their way to the challenge round by defeating William Johnston and Clarence Griffin, of San Francisco, while Church and Mathey beat J B. Adoue, of Dallas, Texas, and Irving Wright, of Boston, southern champions.

Pell and Behr won in the most sensational tennis seen on a local court in years. Church and Mathey outclassed Adoue and Wright, and never were in danger.

SPALDING'S FOOTBALL GUIDE IS PUBLISHED

With the football season considerable ways off yet, and all the baseball leagues in the heat of a pennant race, it is a little out of the way to talk of football yet.

One Measly Run Was All Crackers Could Score From Bernie Boland's Twirling

By Paul W. Treanor.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 4.—Some kind of a jinx must be resting over the bunch of Crackers, for again today they lost, 2 to 1, in the tenth inning, when the game had traveled from the fifth inning 1 to 1.

It was largely a case of pure old luck for the Vols that there was this outcome, and had Perryman gotten safely through this inning there would have been at least another tie.

Hemingway, who had struck out twice and failed to secure a hit, was first man up and he drove a hard one down the third base line. It was too much for Holland, who was playing the bag while Bisland was in Jennings' place at short, and went to Long. Hemingway took two bags.

Holland Asleep.

Williams then hit to Perryman, who could have thrown Hemingway out at third, but Holland was some several feet from the bag and the best he could do was throw Williams out at first. Smith, the Vol catcher, then drove out a long fly to left field, which Long failed to handle quickly, and the damage was done.

In the ninth it looked as if Atlanta was going to stow the game away when Eibel, up first, drove out a two-bagger to the right field fence. The hopes of the Crackermen were smashed, however, by the masterly pitching of Boland, who struck out Dunn and Perryman, walked Long purposely, and then fanned Bisland.

Atlanta's run came in the fifth, when Long hit to center, stole second and was scored on Bisland's hit over second base. In the same inning Smith hit safe and was scored by Callahan.

Well Played Game.

In the matter of hits the teams were fairly even, with the Volunteers, however, getting the best, rapping Perryman for ten while the Crackers secured eight off of Boland. It was a good, tight game, both pitchers going well, fielding being fast and good headwork being used the greater portion of the time.

In the ninth Kircher made one of the greatest catches seen in many a day. A short fly was rapped by King to right field and the funny man of baseball had to make a quick spurt for it. When he caught it he had to lay his gloved hand on the ground. It was a hairbreadth affair and won him much applause.

Then to show his feelings and elation, Kircher turned one of his famous flips with the ball in hand before he threw it gleefully back into play.

Many of the Atlanta players opined that Kellum, who was behind the bat, had left his good eyes at home, as he was several times off on balls and strikes.

Although they had lost the double-header on the day before, the Cracker bunch played with as much vim as if they had won.

PEACE IS ASSURED FOR WESTERN ROADS

Washington, August 4.—Peace in the railway world west of the Mississippi river for the next eighteen months at least was assured early today when representatives of ninety-eight railroads and 60,000 enginemen and firemen signed an agreement to submit their differences to arbitration.

Today's action followed an agreement to arbitrate the differences reached yesterday after President Wilson had appealed to the patriotism of the railroad managers.

GOV. SLATON RESPITES TWO CONDEMNED MEN

John Wright and Miles Cribb Given Two More Weeks to Live.

Governor John M. Slaton on Tuesday granted respites of two weeks each to two men condemned to die on the gallows next Friday.

One of these is John Wright, under sentence of death in Fannin county. The reason for the granting of the respite, as assigned by the governor, is that the Baptist association is holding a two weeks' session at Blue Ridge, the place of execution, and have officially made a request that the execution be postponed until after the Baptist chautauqua, which is of a religious character. In addition to this, the prison commission has unanimously recommended a commutation, while the judge and solicitor general disagree to this recommendation, thus leaving the matter in an unsettled state.

The other respite was granted to Miles Cribb, in Turner county.

This respite was granted upon the telegraphic request of Judge E. E. Cox, who tried Cribb, that the execution of the death sentence be stayed two weeks in order to determine whether Cribb is of sound mental condition, which Judge Cox states he believes not to be the fact. The prison commission recommended the respite.

Both men were doomed to die Friday, August 7, and both executions have been respited to Friday, August 28.

HARDWICK ATTACKS SLATON ON TAX LAW

Fairburn, Ga., August 4.—(Special.) Congressman T. W. Hardwick spoke for an hour and twenty minutes to a big crowd in the court house here today along the usual lines. He emphasized his fitness and qualifications for the office of senator; ridiculed Rufe Hutchens and attacked Governor Slaton's record on the tax law. He said Slaton made a great mistake in his senatorial appointment of West and that he ought to have appointed Joe Brown. He denied any combination with Felder. He won frequent applause from the crowd by his wit and favorably impressed a number of voters.

Randolph Anderson disappointed a large crowd by his failure to arrive today, but Judge Reid announced that Mr. Anderson will address the people here Wednesday during the noon recess at the court house.

MONEY FOR CROPS AND FOR BUSINESS

Secretary McAdoo Says Financial Situation Is Excellent—Measures Taken to Protect Interests of United States.

Washington, August 4.—After two days of conferences with bankers and a careful investigation of conditions throughout the country Secretary McAdoo in a formal statement tonight declared the financial situation to be excellent and announced there will be sufficient currency to move crops and meet all demands of business.

"The passage by unanimous vote of the house and senate this afternoon of the amendment of the federal reserve ..." the statement says, whereby the ...sury of the treasury is vested with ...wer to issue additional national bank currency exceeding even $500,000,000, as in his judgment may be necessary to protect the business situation in this country, "puts at rest any question as to the ability of banks to take care of the situation. There need be no fear whatever of insufficient currency to move the crops and to meet the demands of business.

What the Bill Provides.

"The bill, as amended, authorizes the secretary, in his discretion, to permit national banks to have outstanding a maximum of circulating notes equivalent to 125 per cent of their unimpaired capital and surplus. This provision will enable banks which have now outstanding circulation equal to their capital stock to secure a large amount of additional circulation. Applications have been received from national currency associations throughout the country for additional currency and the applications are being promptly responded to. In many cases banks have applied for additional currency merely as a precautionary measure.

"The situation throughout the country is excellent and no greater testimonial to the inherent strength of our financial and economic position and condition could be given than the way in which the country has withstood the shock of the greatest European disturbance that has occurred in the last hundred years.

Evidence of Patriotism.

"The unanimous vote in the house and senate is an inspiring evidence of patriotism of the representatives of the American people who, whenever there is a threatened danger, forget party lines and present a solid front in support of the common interest."

The treasury department continued today to ship out additional currency to associations throughout the country, but the move was looked upon purely as precautionary.

The fact that President Wilson today nominated F. A. Delano for the federal reserve board was taken to indicate that the administration hopes the federal reserve banking system can be put in operation within a comparatively short time.

President Wilson tonight signed the amendment to the Aldrich-Vreeland law vesting the secretary of the treasury with discretionary power as to the amount of currency to be issued under that act.

Late today the secretary sent to the house a request for an emergency appropriation of $301,465 for the printing of 8,000 sheets of national bank and United States notes.

TRADE PROBLEM BEING CONSIDERED.

New York, August 4.—Although the financial machinery of the country worked smoothly today as a result of measures taken yesterday to meet the extraordinary war situation, little progress was made toward resumption of the interchange of credits and commodities between the old world and the new.

With immediate financial necessities met, Wall street turned to the general trade problem—more intricate that any other that has confronted the country for a century. Unless this problem is solved it was recognized the consequences might be felt seriously throughout the nation.

The greater part of the import trade from Europe already has been cut by the seizure of railways in France and Germany for military purposes and the holding in port of trans-Atlantic vessels. Merchandise importations here from France and Germany alone average $1,000,000 daily.

Export trade presented a still larger problem. American exports to Europe under normal conditions average $4,000,000 daily, nearly one-third of which is for France and Germany direct. All of this trade for the moment is blocked. The remainder also is halted by the absence of facilities for financing the export movement.

Industries Feeling the War.

Stoppage of foreign trade already has been reflected by the piling up of wheat. The great industries also have begun to feel the situation and word came from steel districts today that men were being laid off.

Several large copper companies decided today to reduce their output by one-half. From the anthracite fields came reports that operations were being curtailed. Wall street today feared that if the country's industries which are dependent on the export trade should be cut off indefinitely by a European war, the result would be felt seriously but the opinion was expressed that a way would be found to overcome these conditions.

"We have food supplies and other necessities which Europe must obtain," said a representative banker today, "and the nations over there will find some means of obtaining what we can sell. For the present we shall endeavor to meet conditions as they arise from day to day."

Little business was done today in the money market. Bankers made it plain they preferred to put out as little money as possible and to have maturing loans taken up where convenient. Mercantile discounts were arranged in the open market at six per cent, but little paper was moving.

The stock exchange again was deserted.

EUROPE BUYING AMERICAN WHEAT.

Chicago, August 4.—European buying of American wheat in defiance of the mishaps of war began today. British government guarantee against possible loss by ocean capture of any part of the millions of bushels previously under contract to go to English ports, opened the way for additional purchasing, notwithstanding that the guarantee had not been formally extended to transactions entered into since war was declared.

Prices of wheat turned upward to an extreme of 3⅝c a bushel and closed strong with net gains of 2½c to 2¾c. All the other leading staples on the board of trade joined in the advance. Both foreign and domestic investors appeared to believe that the signing of the bill to put under the protection of the American flag all the shipping needed was only a matter of a few hours, and that the temporary financial strain here had been relaxed.

According to a leading exporter, the news regarding business in the grain world today was good news, except one thing, namely, that foreign exchange bankers had not yet found themselves able to purchase foreign bills against foodstuffs. Negotiations seeking a satisfactory solution of this highly important matter were in progress, with good results hoped for.

At a meeting of the Chicago board of trade directors this evening steps were taken to request the chamber of commerce of the United States to petition the secretary of the treasury to buy $25,000,000 to $40,000,000 of foreign exchange, to be used to facilitate the export of grain. It was also decided to memoralize President Wilson to use his influence with the governments of Germany, Great Britain and France to have foodstuffs declared not contraband of war.

In addition, the meeting appointed a committee to outline a plan for a new clearing system on exchange here reducing margins so that no money would be tied up except on net differences on daily balances between profits and losses instead of the gigantic sums now required.

COURT PROCEDURE BILL REPORTED FAVORABLY

However, War Talk Came Near Causing Bill to Be Turned Down,

A new law which provides for additional court procedure to simplify the filing of suits and the trial of cases in the several courts of Georgia came very near being turned down at a joint session of the house committees on general judiciary Nos. 1 and 2 Tuesday afternoon because of the war in Europe. The bill has been passed by the senate. It is a technical bill dealing with court procedure, and makes many changes in the present methods of court trials in civil cases. The bill was acted on favorably by the two committees by a vote of 16 to 9. Representatives Olive, of Richmond, and Davidson, of Putnam, stated that they were opposed to any drastic changes in the laws which affected the rights of litigant parties at a time when the war in Europe might cause disturbances in the business and finances of this country.

Judge Andrew J. Cobb, associate justice of the supreme court, spoke for the bill. He was on the commission that prepared it.

The bill was introduced in the senate by Senators Irwin, of the thirty-fourth district, and Elkins, of the fifteenth district.

Two Lively Rows Develop.

Two lively rows developed at a meeting of the house committee on municipal government. One was over a bill to make the town of Oakhurst a part of Decatur, and the other was to revolutionize the government of the city of Blue Ridge, in Fannin county.

In the Oakhurst-Decatur contest citizens of both towns spoke both for and against the measure. In the midst of the discussion the chairman, Judge Picquett, of Richmond county, remarked: "Well, there is no use for you all to scrap, for Atlanta will soon gobble both of you up." The committee voted to let Decatur annex Oakhurst.

In the other contest Thomas A. Brown, attorney, stated that Blue Ridge was being controlled by the North Georgia bank, and that the city was being woefully mismanaged by the present mayor and three councilmen. The bill sought to oust all of the present officials and elect a new mayor and five councilmen. Mr. Brown's charges were denied by Attorney William Butt. Both sides claimed that a majority of the taxpayers were with them. The committee voted to pass the bill, and if that recommendation becomes a law Blue Ridge will see an upheaval in its city government.

The same committee acted favorably on the following bill:

To provide a board of health in the town of Decatur, in DeKalb county.

It acted unfavorably on a bill to reduce the town limits of Carnesville, in Franklin county.

Tech to Borrow $35,000.

The house committee on education acted favorably on a bill to allow the Georgia State School of Technology to borrow $35,000 to build a power plant.

Professor K. G. Matheson, president of the Technological school, appeared before the committee, and stated that it was imperative that the power plant be erected at once. He said that over $200,000 in public subscriptions and donations of equipment had been given the school, and in order to utilize these gifts it was necessary to borrow $35,000 to erect a building and install the equipment. The borrowed money, he said, is to be paid out of the popular subscriptions which is payable in five years, and the interest out of the appropriation made to the school by the city of Atlanta. The Julius L. Brown estate has offered to loan the money.

Mr. Beck, of Carroll, offered an amendment, which was adopted by the committee, to provide that the state of Georgia would not in any way become responsible for the return of the $35,000.

Other Bills Acted On.

The corporation committee of the house voted in favor of a bill to amend the act creating the board of county commissioners of Montgomery county. This bill had been adversely reported by the house committee on county and county matters, but on request was withdrawn from that committee and recommended to the corporation committee. A number of Montgomery county citizens were present, and talks were made on both sides of the question.

The railroad committee of the house turned down the following bills:

To require all street railway cars to be provided with doors inclosing both front and rear platforms.

To require automobiles to stop at all railroad and street railway crossings.

ILLNESS HALTS WORK ON NELMS MYSTERY

Conference With Postoffice Inspector Delayed—Mrs. Dennis Left Only $100.

Progress in the investigation of the mysterious connection of Victor E. Innes, the Portland, Oregon, attorney, with the disappearance of Miss Beatrice Nelms and her sister, Mrs. Elois Nelms Dennis, was delayed Tuesday by the illness of Postoffice Inspector Barry.

A general conference had been planned between the attorneys of Mrs. J. W. Nelms, mother of the missing women, and the head of the secret service men with the purpose of reviewing the contents of a number of telegrams which passed between Innes and Mrs. Dennis.

A pathetic feature of the disappearance mystery came to light Tuesday, when it was made known by Mrs. Nelms, upon examining the estate of Mrs. Dennis, that she had practically pauperized herself to send money to her lover, Innes, leaving the small inheritance of $100 to her little son, Walter Nelms Dennis.

WOMAN DIES IN CHAIR AS MINISTER PRAYS

Lawrenceville, Ga., August 4.—(Special.)—Mrs. Jane Tullis, wife of Newell Tullis, died suddenly at their home in Hog Mountain district under rather peculiar circumstances. Rev. L. E. Kilgore had dropped in to pay a pastoral call, accompanied by Jeff D. Hannah. After being there several minutes, Mr. Tullis brought the Bible out on the front porch, where they were all sitting and the minister read a chapter and offered prayer. During the prayer Mrs. Tullis was noticed to be suffering, and her husband ran to her side. In a few minutes she expired, sitting in her chair. Twice previously she had been stricken with paralysis.

The deceased was 64 years old and, besides her husband, she leaves two sons, Harvey and Wash Tullis.

CRISP COUNTY VOTERS HEAR JOHN R. COOPER

Cordele, Ga., August 4.—(Special.)—A crowd of several hundred Crisp county voters heard the address here today of John R. Cooper in the interest of his candidacy for the United States senate and he kept them well entertained.

Cooper's address was featured with his attack on Felder and Hardwick, whom he termed the two "Tommies," and both of whom he charged with ingratitude of the rankest kind.

Felder, he said, had turned against the man who had educated him and had slandered his memory after he was dead. He referred to Joseph E. Brown, founder of the Brown educational fund, by which both Felder and Cooper were educated.

"I heard Felder denounce Joseph E. Brown in the auditorium at Macon when he was working against 'Little Joe' in his race for governor," said Cooper, "and when he was asked by a man in the audience how he had been educated, he admitted that it had been on the Brown fund."

Cooper excoriated Hardwick severely and attacked the tax equalization law passed under Slaton's administration.

REMOVED FROM JOB, LOWNDES WARDEN COMMITS SUICIDE

Valdosta, Ga., August 4.—(Special.)—P. B. Barbre, former warden of the Lowndes county chaingang, committed suicide at his home here last night by shooting himself through the heart. It is understood that he was recently removed from his position as warden by the county commissioners, and that despondency over loss of his job prompted the act.

Barbres' wife and child are visiting relatives at Buena Vista, Ga. Their pictures were found lying on a chair by his bedside when neighbors reached the scene. He left a note requesting that his brothers at Albany and his wife be notified.

P. J. Barbre came to Valdosta today and carried the body of his brother to Albany, his former home, for burial.

JOHN C. SMITH SPEAKS IN SLATON'S INTEREST

Washington, Ga., August 4.—(Special.)—The largest and most enthusiastic political gathering in Wilkes county during the present campaign was that assembled in the courthouse here today to hear Hon. John Clay Smith in the interest of Governor Slaton's candidacy for the senate.

Mr. Smith covered thoroughly the public records of all candidates, strongly attacking Hardwick and Felder for their fillibuster against the building of a terminal station on the state's property in Atlanta when both were members of the house of representatives. He also attacked Hardwick's position on the parcel post and currency bills.

Hon. Nat E. Harris today announced that he will speak in Washington Saturday at noon in furtherance of his campaign for the governorship.

HARDMAN IS MAKING FOUR SPEECHES A DAY

Pelham, Ga., August 4.—(Special.)—Dr. L. G. Hardman addressed about 150 Mitchell county voters in the opera house here today in the interest of his candidacy for governor. He discussed agricultural problems, public health measures, drainage and reviewed his record in the legislature. He was introduced by S. T. Everett.

Although he is making from four to five speeches a day, Dr. Hardman shows no signs of fatigue. He appears to be in robust health and seems to find campaigning in south Georgia entirely agreeable.

Savannah, Ga., August 4.—(Special.)—The small farmer who ships his product to this port will be cared for by local factors. This was definitely decided at a conference today. The plan is to induce the big planter to hold his product at home until conditions improve.

All producers will be advised that there is no market for the staple in Savannah now. The entire factorage interests here propose forming a pool in order to tide over the crisis which will develop with the beginning of another season and take prompt measures to care for the staple which cannot be held at points of production.

Remarks.

In the eastern part of the cotton crop belt the cotton crop made fairly good growth and local rains at the close of the week were beneficial, but some deterioration was reported in the Carolinas. Picking of early cotton is progressing in the southern portion. In the central part of the belt the crop is in good condition in Alabama and most places in Mississippi, but is shedding in Louisana, deteriorating in Tennessee, and has not made much progress in Arkansas on account of dry weather. The boll weevil has appeared in Arkansas and is destructive in some localities in Louisiana. In the western part of the cotton belt drouth continues, but cotton appears to be holding its own in Oklahoma and many western and northern counties of Texas, but is deteriorating elsewhere in Texas, where shedding is reported in many places and opening prematurely. In the trucking districts in the south conditions have improved where sufficient rain was received.

C. F. von HERRMANN,
Section Director Weather Bureau.

Coffee.

New York, August 4.—Notwithstanding the absence of official futures markets there was considerable activity in the coffee trade here today and spot prices advanced further on a better jobbing demand than reported for some months, with holders showing increased firmness, owing to uncertainty as to the possibility and cost of replacing available supplies by fresh importations from Brazil. The only cables received from the primary markets reported that a general holiday had been proclaimed until August 15.

Rio sevens were quoted at 9 in the spot market and Santos No. 4 at 12, or about 2@2½ above the lowest prices of last week.

Break in Hog Prices.

St. Louis, August 4.—The local hog market dropped 40 to 50 cents today as a result of the European war. Cattle prices, however, stiffened. The break in the hog market was attributed to uncertainty as to the exportation of lard and pork.

Savannah Market Closes.

Savannah, Ga., August 4.—The local market for cotton, so far as prices and quotations are concerned, was formally abandoned at 1 o'clock today.

Provisions.

Chicago, August 4.—Pork nominal.

Foreign Finances.

Paris, August 4.—The Paris bourse was not closed today. Business was done for cash and there were only a few transactions. Three per cent rentes were quoted at 76 and 3½ per cent at 84. The savings bank purchased about $70,000 of rentes. All other quotations were nominal.

BETTER FEELING ON GRAIN EXCHANGE

Probability of the Resumption of the Export Trade Caused Grain and Provisions to Advance.

Chicago, August 4.—Reports from one of the largest houses on 'change that exports of American wheat already had started on a big basis near the close today, started a flurry that resulted in a spirited finish—2½c to 2⅝c above last night. Corn scored a like advance, with oats up ⅜ to ⅝c, and provisions higher by 7½ to 20c.

Highest prices by wheat today were immediately after the receipt of premature announcements that the bill to admit foreign ships to American registry was only awaiting the signature of President Wilson. In the last hour, though, the market was again advancing with a lively swing. Advices that the British government would guarantee war risks for buyers on open contracts for wheat started values upgrade. It was said the Belgian government would take similar action, and there were advices also that German firms had shouldered the burden. The fact that Chicago banks today received $54,000,000 in currency and gold from Washington counted materially in restoring confidence and helping to lift values.

Oats reflected the strength of other grain, but the arrival today of 974 carloads prevented more than a moderate rise in prices.

Provisions rallied with cereals, although recovering only a fair degree of the staggering losses of the previous day. Offerings were light except that lard became noticeably plentiful on the upturn of the market.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

ROY STUBBS PICKED FOR U. S. ATTORNEY

Roscoe Luke Barred, Senator West Will Present Eatonton Man for Akerman's Place--Senators Sore About Patronage.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, August 4.—(Special.)—Senator West will go back to the department of justice tomorrow morning and make one final effort to meet the wishes of the department in regard to a district attorney for the southern district of Georgia.

Roscoe Luke, of Thomasville, has been definitely eliminated from consideration because of his campaign card viciously assailing Mr. Wilson and declaring him unfit for the democratic nomination for president.

Roy Stubbs Latest Richmond.

The latest Richmond in the field is Roy Stubbs, of Eatonton, formerly a representative in the legislature from Putnam county. His claims will be presented to the attorney general tomorrow by Senator West.

If after all of his nominees, including many of the best lawyers in south Georgia, have been turned down for one reason or another, Senator West will seek to learn the reason why. It is plain that his patience is almost exhausted. Senators from other states are smoldering with resentment against the attorney general for the way he has handled patronage problems. None of them is yet ready to talk for publication because they are not ready for a complete break with the administration.

Senator O'Gorman Fretting.

Senator O'Gorman, of New York, is fretting because republicans are still being retained as United States marshals and district attorneys in New York. Eighty republican postmasters whose terms have expired are still holding office, and Secretary McAdoo is retaining in the office of revenue collectors in New York a negro republican and a white republican.

The patronage situation in Tennessee is far from satisfactory. Although Senators Luke Lea and Shields have composed their differences, the executive departments have not yet acted.

Democrats are getting awfully impatient.

HON. ROY STUBBS.

Senator West will present the name of the Eatonton man for United States attorney of the Southern District of Georgia.

MISS MARGARET M'KEE IS SAFE IN DRESDEN

A cablegram from Miss Margaret McKee, daughter of Hugh L. McKee, reports that she is safe in Dresden, Germany. Misses Elizabeth Green and Isoline Campbell are with her. The message was received last night by Mr. McKee, who has just returned from a six weeks' trip to California.

AT THE THEATERS

Cabiria.

(At the Atlanta.)

At a time when all the world is talking of military it should interest all to see how battles were fought in the third century, B. C. In "Cabiria," the colossal photo-drama by Gabriele D'Annunzio, which is to be shown at the Atlanta theater, beginning August 24, there are many battles, which for limitless ferocity and desperation thrill the beholders with mingled awe and horror, awe at the massive agencies of destruction employed, horror at the relentless carnage which takes place. There is the destruction of the Roman fleet, which is realistic beyond description. The ships are burned to the water's edge and death is dealt out unsparingly. Similarly with the battle scenes where the combatants give and take no quarter, Hannibal's crossing of the Alps is wonderfully impressive as a military achievement.

"Shadows of the Past."

(At the Grand.)

The best show of the season at the Grand is another way of saying the best feature pictures ever shown in Atlanta. The Vitagraph masterpiece, "Shadows of the Past," a three-reel drama of more than ordinary interest, and "Mr. Bingle's Melodrama," a three-reel comedy that burlesques the old-time melodrama, are playing to immense audiences at all performances, and deservedly so. Four shows are given daily at 2:00, 3:30, 7:30 and 9:00 p. m. Regular prices.

HILTONIA MEN BONDED FOR OBSTRUCTING MAILS

Savannah, Ga., August 4.—(Special.) Charged with obstructing United States mail by stopping a train on the Savannah and Northwestern railway near Hiltonia, a few months ago during a strike of the road's conductors, Dan T. Jenkins, Robert Mobley and James Godbeem, prominent men of the Hiltonia section, were arrested today.

They were brought to Savannah and required to give bond for their appearance before the federal grand jury in the fall. Four other men accused with them are now under bond.

VOTERS OF DOUGHERTY HEAR FELDER SPEAK

Albany, Ga., August 4.—(Special.)—Hon. T. S. Felder addressed an audience of a couple of hundred voters of Dougherty county here tonight. He was given a cordial reception, as he has a number of enthusiastic followers in this community.

He followed the line of argument on which he has spoken throughout the state and many of his sallies were loudly cheered. He argued that his legislative record showed him to be better fitted than either of his opponents for senatorial duties and predicted his election.

HUTCHENS ADDRESSES SANDERSVILLE VOTERS

Sandersville, Ga., August 4.—(Special.)—G. R. Hutchens spoke here today at noon in behalf of his candidacy for the senate. He criticised all of his opponents and Senator Smith and then made a plea for himself. He stated that he had a hard struggle as a youth, and did not go to school much, but by hard study was admitted to the bar and had worked his way forward.

He claimed that he would carry every county in his congressional district and senatorial district, which, he said, no other candidate can do. One hundred voters listened to his speech.

Horton Harris Kills Self.

New Orleans, August 4.—Horton Harris, aged 24, secretary to Congressman Garland Dupre, shot and killed himself some time during last night in Mr. Dupre's office here. The body was found today. Relatives say they can assign no reason.

BRISTOW IS BEATEN IN KANSAS PRIMARY

Curtis Nominated for Senate. Gore Wins in Oklahoma and Stone in Missouri.

Topeka, Kan., August 4.—United States Senator Joseph L. Bristow apparently has been defeated for renomination by Charles Curtis, of Topeka. On available early returns from today's primary Curtis appears to be leading Bristow by a safe majority. Curtis said to night he would carry the state by 15,000 votes.

The vote was light today at the first state-wide primary at which women were allowed to vote. Early reports indicated that women cast one-third of the votes.

At they had no opposition, George H. Hodges, of Olathe; Arthur Capperm, of Topeka, and Henry J. Allen, of Wichita, automatically became the nominees for governor of the democratic, republican and progressive parties, respectively.

There were no contests in the progressive party. Victor Murdock was nominated for United States senator.

GORE RENOMINATED IN OKLAHOMA.

Oklahoma City, Okla., August 4.—A long and complicated ballot greatly delayed the count of the vote in today's primary in this state for the nomination of candidates for all the congressional and state offices.

Partial returns from about two-thirds of the seventy-seven counties in the state received by The Oklahoman at 11 o'clock indicated that United States Senator Thomas P. Gore was renominated by a large majority over Samuel W. Hayes, of Chickasha.

In the gubernatorial race J. B. A. Robertson, of Chandler; R. L. Williams, of Durant, and Al Jennings, of Oklahoma City, are running a close contest for the democratic nomination. There are three other democratic candidates in the race.

Indications are that the five initiative laws submitted to the voters have carried.

STONE WINS IN MISSOURI.

St. Louis, August 4.—Meager returns from the state-wide primary tonight indicated the renomination of United States Senator William J. Stone on the democratic ticket and the nomination of Thomas J. Akins, of St. Louis, as republican candidate.

Four of the fifteen democratic congressmen from Missouri were renominated without opposition. They included Champ Clark and Dorsey W. Shackleford.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Rainey died Tuesday morning at the residence, 310 Spring street.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS MEET IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Man., August 4.—Marking the second time in the history of the order that a supreme lodge session has been held outside of the United States, the golden jubilee year convention of the supreme lodge Knights of Pythias opened a ten days' session here today.

Reduction of the age limit for admission from 21 to 18 years and official recognition of the Knights of Khorassan are among the important matters before the convention.

B. H. Young, of Ada, Ohio, who has served two years as vice chancellor, has no announced opponent for the office of supreme chancellor.

TRADE BOARD MEASURE TO BE VOTED ON TODAY

Washington, August 4.—The senate today agreed to begin voting on amendments to the trade commission bill, with limited debate tomorrow at 2 p. m., and to vote on final passage not later than 6 p. m.

During the day the senate had rejected, 32 to 30, the Reed amendment defining "unfair competition." Advocates of the bill claimed that with this amendment out of the way the measure will pass the senate in virtually the form in which it stands.

TWO CLARK BROTHERS INDICTED FOR MURDER

Ashburn, Ga., August 4.—(Special.)—Marion and Spencer Clark, two brothers who have been held in the Turner county jail since last April in connection with the killing of Jesse Zorn, a prominent young salesman of Sycamore, were today indicted for murder by the grand jury.

Zorn was fatally shot in his own home in Sycamore by the Clark brothers, who claim they thought he was a burglar.

DELANO NOMINATED FOR RESERVE BOARD

Chicago Financier and Railroad Manager Is Selected by President.

Washington, August 4—Frederick A. Delano, of Chicago, has accepted a place on the federal reserve board and President Wilson sent his nomination to the senate today. It was at once referred to the banking committee.

Mr. Delano is a financier and railroad manager, a Harvard graduate who entered the Burlington railway shops as a mechanic and became general manager of the line, later to become president of the Wabash. He later became president of the Monon system.

President Taft nominated him for a place on the industrial relations commission and while confirmation was held up his appointment lapsed, but President Wilson renominated him and he was confirmed.

A favorable report on Paul M. Warburg's nomination is expected with Mr. Delano's.

Delano Wants No Quibbling.

"If the senate should confirm my appointment to the federal reserve board without quibbling I should accept the place as a matter of duty," said Frederick A. Delano, president of the Monon railroad, today.

COUNCIL OF WAR IN MEXICO CITY

ordered tonight, according to constitutionalist officials.

It was predicted that within a week Villa would have approximately 25,000 men in Torreon. Observers here took this action to indicate that the northern leader was preparing for war with Carranza. Villa is reported to be at a ranch near Chihuahua City.

It was estimated by Americans coming from Villa's territory that he has secured 5,000 recruits in the last two weeks. They have been armed with rifles supposed to have been smuggled across the line at this point.

CARRANZA'S ACTION NOT APPROVED.

Washington, August 4.—Refusal by General Carranza to accept terms suggested by the Carbajal government for peace in Mexico did not meet with the approval of administration officials here.

The conditions set forth by the Carbajal delegates were regarded in government circles as fair. With Carranza's refusal to arrange for a peaceful transition of the government, recognition by the United States will be withheld pending a general election. Instead of recognizing the provisional government which would have been set up by peaceful agreement, the American government now will wait for a permanent government.

Reports that General Villa had proclaimed his independence from Carranza did not surprise administration officials, who previously have had reliable intimations of this kind. That Villa might consider terms of peace offered by Carbajal was considered likely in many quarters.

ADAMSON DAM MEASURE PASSED BY THE HOUSE

Washington, August 4.—(Special.)—Representative Adamson passed through the house this afternoon the amendment water power bill. It was adopted by the overwhelming vote of 187 to 44.

Mr. Adamson predicts that this measure will be of incalculable benefit to Georgia and the south in promoting navigation, developing water powers, and building up trade and industry.

Under the present laws private capital will not build dams and develop potential water powers because of the risk and uncertainty. The extreme conservationists opposed the Adamson bill, but finally most of these people in the house were brought to its support.

The bill safeguards the rights of the people and provides that the government may take over all water power developments at the end of fifty years.
